December 19, 2018 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

VENTURE 4th, a company based in the United States, is pleased to announce its solution providing the end to all worries of being the victim of theft or scams while travelling. The company's RFID Blocking Neck Pouch, designed to offer protection against RFID scanning, is able to securely hold passports, important documents, cash and credit cards, offering a peace of mind to everyone who travels.

When contacted about their product, Patricia Wright, a representative of the company said, "Travel is a wonderful thing. It's about going out there, to places you've never been to before and experiencing them firsthand. And as a traveler, you want an experience that's brimming with discovery, excitement and joy. To have that experience, you need to be free of worries about pickpockets and scammers. Today's conmen are clever and utilize modern technologies to try and read the digital microchips embedded in our credit cards and whatnot. Our Neck Wallet holder with its RFID blocker is designed with that in mind, to provide a worry-free travelling experience that is completely safe.?

The RFID Blocking Neck Wallet is perfect for all travelling purposes. On top of its RFID blocking capacity, the durable ripstop nylon wallet is designed with an adjustable strap to fit any height and body type, a moisture absorbing back panel that keeps the skin clear of irritation and sweat, smart storage panels to better organize documents and all of this in a streamlined slim design that allows the wallet to be worn underneath clothes. The wallet also has a unique ID window for convenience at any security points. Visit Facebook for the coupon to get this at a great price.

A customer of VENTURE 4th, Alfonso Menendez, had this to say about the Neck Wallet: ?The neck wallet is perfect. I used it on a recent trip to London and it provided exactly what I was looking for. It's safe because you can carry this under your jumper or your jacket, which means pickpockets have to pretty much undress you if they want to access it. It's got more than enough space for a passport, credit cards, train tickets and other documents. And it's very accessible. The way the different compartments are all designed make it very easy to access your items. I didn't personally know if I was targeted by people who wanted to use microchip scanners on me, but I spent several days in and around London and I'm safe. That's gotta mean something.?

VENTURE 4th prides itself on its range of high-quality, durable, and thoroughly-tested products that are designed to give their users complete convenience, safety and peace of mind wherever their journey takes them. In addition to the RFID blocking passport holders, the company also provides secure money belts that hide seamlessly behind your clothes, to light-weight unbreakable umbrellas, TSA-friendly heavy duty padlocks, world travel adapters, lightweight sleeping bags and more. The Neck Wallet or Money Belt comparison in the Venture 4th website provides a detailed look at both for people who are unsure which option to pick.

Asked about the company's range of products, Patricia Wright said, ?Venture 4th is about adventure. It's in our name, you know, ?venture forth?. We're devoted to outfitting you with the best tools and accessories on the market, all made with the highest quality materials. We are family-run business and we have an in-house team of seasoned travelers and we put our own experience into the products we make. Everything we make is made with that philosophy in mind and Venture 4th's products are extensively tested. We also don't discount what our clients have to say and are constantly looking to improve our goods.?

The Neck Wallet is just one of many possible options to protect one's valuables. Venture 4th itself offers multiple products in this regard and the RFID Safe Money Belt, for instance, is one of them.

Whatever the option is, Venture 4th products all have glowing reviews from their customers. A review on their website reads: ?Worked great for me traveling to Israel. Comfortable. Lightweight. Holds everything you need for travel. Secure.?

It is possible to buy this Neck Wallet on Amazon currently, and for discounts, Venture 4th's website has more details about both the Neck Wallet and their other range of products and a store that provides easy purchase of any of their products.
