Lea Louise, a health and beauty company in Hawthorn, CA, have released their lavender scented foot peel on Amazon with a 51% discount. The peel, which usually costs $43, is now available for just $21 from <http://Go2Azon.com/g/B00N744D4A-FOOTPEEL> Furthermore, it comes with a number of interesting extras and it has been updated to be more suitable for the American market. It is hoped that this will encourage more people to think about the most neglected part of the human body: the feet.

"Few people realize just how much we forget to look after our feet," says Adrian Lew from Lea Louise. "Research has shown that these vital parts of our body are really neglected. We want to encourage people to change those statistics by turning their feet smooth, soft and healthy by using our foot peel."

The foot peel has been updated so that all the instructions, packaging, and free guide with hints and tips are in English. As the product was originally designed for the Japanese market, it was also presented using the Japanese language. This has now changed, meaning it can now also be used properly in the American and European markets.

Lea Louise is one of the only companies around today that offer their foot peels in sets of four. Normally, a pack includes just two sets, one for each foot. This means that users can either choose to repeat the treatment after one month, or share the other set with someone else.

Since its original release, the product has received many positive reviews. "I could not be more impressed with the passion, quality and beauty of this product," says Stephanie. "Customer service has been phenomenal and shipping was so fast. The product was packaged with great care and arrived on my doorstep within just days of my order."

The product is designed to help people remove the dead skin cells from their feet. As a result, the feet look and feel healthier and younger and bad odors are also reduced. The special offer is available for a limited time only, so people are encouraged to get theirs quickly.
