Edmonton Real Estate Agent Firm Offers Unique Hybrid Service For Home Sellers

December 20, 2018

December 20, 2018 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

SellerInvite, a real estate firm in Edmonton, Alberta, Canada, has announced that they are offering home sellers a hybrid service in which homeowners still benefit from the freedom and savings of selling by owner while being assisted by a realtor. This is made possible through the firm's reduced commission selling packages with unrestricted access to REALTOR.ca. The sellers have the freedom to choose the level of REALTOR® representation, which means substantial savings for the sellers.

Rod Thompson, founder and owner of SellerInvite, says, "Our reduced commission selling packages, with unrestricted access to the MLS® System, gives sellers the freedom to choose different levels of REALTOR® services while providing significant savings. A licensed REALTOR® acts both as a trusted advisor and as a third non-emotional intermediary, ensuring you make smart decisions. The value of an experienced and ethical REALTOR® is immeasurable."

Aside from the above, the Edmonton real estate agent firm also provides an honest home valuation and a support team headed by a licensed broker to ensure smooth processing of transactions. SellerInvite REALTORS® provide the knowledge needed by the seller to navigate the selling process confidently, leading them to more satisfying transactions.

SellerInvite was founded by Rod Thompson in 2008 and they have made it their mission to empower buyers and sellers to allow them to make smarter and better decisions through state of the art technology, education, and innovative buying and selling options.

Furthermore, a computerized lock box is provided not only to safely hold the home's key so REALTORS® can access the home, but also to allow the seller to track who the REALTOR® was and when they went and when they entered. It also allows SellerInvite to track the activity and request for feedback regarding the home, so that they can provide better advice.

And finally, SellerInvite makes sure that homeowners really understand the current state of the housing market that their listing is in so that they have a realistic idea of the market value of their property. The company provides Market Watch, which is designed to keep the sellers informed regarding possible changes that can affect the sale of their property.

Meanwhile, SellerInvite also provides services home buyers. For them, the company offers the Cash Back Program that is designed to reward buyers up to 25 percent of the commissions the company earns when they purchase a home through SellerInvite. The program is such that the faster the buyer is able to find a home the more money the buyer is able to get back, whether purchasing a home on the MLS® System, a for-sale-by-owner, or a new build. Here, a licensed REALTOR® serves as a trusted advisor and as a third non-emotional intermediary, making sure that the buyer is able to make a smart decision.

Meanwhile, past clients of SellerInvite have attested to the satisfactory service the company provides. For instance, Daren and Tessa gave the company five stars and said, "Rod, Scarlet, and Deb provided us with a fantastic home selling experience. Rod explained the selling process and marketing options thoroughly in the consult and took amazing photos of our home. SellerInvite gave our home great exposure and we attracted a lot of traffic. The negotiations were very professional and electronic signing of documents made the selling process smooth. At the end, we sold our home in about six weeks for a fair price in a more challenging buyers market. We will recommend SellerInvite to our friends and use them again. This is the future of professional real estate services in Canada!"

Another customer also gave SellerInvite a five star rating and said, "Thank you, Seller Invite Team (Rod, Laurie and Deb). We listed our place in Dec and sold in April. One less headache now. My husband and I knew absolutely nothing about selling homes. They were there by our side from beginning to the end. Excellent support via text, email and phone calls. I would use them again and highly recommend them."
