Christchurch Company ?Need Money Now? Introduces 60-Minute Financial Assistance on Their New Website

December 26, 2018 -
A New Zealand online financial help company has informed the general public that they can now apply for quick financial aid on their new website. Once a person has been approved for fast financial assistance, the money will then be sent directly to their bank account in less than 60-minutes. They also added that this financial help can be applied for online 24/7.

The name of the company making this quick financial aid possible appropriately calls itself ?Need Money Now?. They are based out of Christchurch, New Zealand. They state that first-time quick financial assistance recipients can get from $100 to $500 for their personal needs. Those that have paid back their financial assistance successfully before can get up to $1000 each time they are approved for any subsequent fast online financial help.

The company spokesperson informed us as to why they introduced this service for quick financial assistance in the first place, they said, ?There comes a time in everyone?s life that they need some fast financial help. It may be needed for such things as an unexpected auto repair, to cover a high insurance deductible or the money may even be used for one?s unplanned last minute weekend getaway. In order for someone to qualify for 60-minute financial aid they don?t have to tell anyone in the company what they are using it for. They just have to meet the eligibility criteria for this financial assistance.?

If someone decides that they want some rapid financial help they do not have to pay this assistance back all at once either. The company spokesperson had this to say about repaying the fast financial assistance they offer, they explained, ?Of course anyone who receives one of these rapid financial help solutions will have to pay it back in installments. The installment payments they make will also include an additional amount which covers the transaction fees and any convenience fees associated with the financial help package. The fact this financial aid is available online 24-hours a day is what makes them more convenient than other similar type financial help; most of which can only be taken out Monday thru Friday during normal working hours.?

If someone wants to learn more about this financial assistance they can refer to the company?s website or look them up on Facebook at https://www.facebook.com/needmoneynownz/.

Many people who take out these fast financing options refer to them as payday financial assistance. That?s because the installments required to pay them back always fall on the aid recipient?s payday. That makes repayment much easier on them. Most applicants will find that it takes little effort on their part to apply for this financial help too. That?s because everything they have to do to get financial assistance is done right online.

Many people who want to take advantage of this fast financial aid from Need Money Now will find they easily meet the assistance criteria that are required for approval. The main requirement is for a person to show that they have a net weekly paycheck coming in that?s $400 or more. A person who applies for this financial assistance must also provide proof that they are over the age of 18.

The financial aid provider encourages everyone to apply even if they have bad credit. That?s because Need Money Now focuses on the weekly paycheck requirement for approval and not a person?s credit rating. The website is also 100% secure, so the people who apply for 60-minute financial aid don?t have to worry about their personal information being compromised.

When talking with the company spokesperson they informed us that they like to be known as a very transparent financial help operation. All of the terms of their financial assistance are laid out in black and white on their website.
