Staten Island, New York-based BusRental.com expands its network of vehicle rental services due to high customers' demand in New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and other neighboring cities and states.

"Being a part of the US Coachways, our huge network of partners and vehicle providers can guarantee our clients with the best charter service in the market. From small family vacations to school trips and huge corporate events, we've got you covered," says Joe Lucci of BusRental.com.

There are many reasons why choosing a charter service, especially a bus rental can provide a more enjoyable and convenient trip to travelers and tourists alike. When traveling in a group, the most important thing is safety. Opting for a bus rental gives travelers the assurance of being in a vehicle that passed all state inspections and regulations. In addition, the charter company will be providing a competent and a professional driver to ensure everyone's safety throughout the whole journey.

"Major cities and states in the US are already congested with cars which make those places even harder to navigate. Especially in New York where parking spaces are truly an issue, NYC bus rental is a great option to mobilize groups of people so they can arrive at the same destination all at the same time. You also no longer have to stress yourself over a parking space because our drivers will drop you off and pick you up whenever you want," says Lucci.

Bus charter services are also environmentally friendly. According to studies, one bus is capable of replacing more than 50 cars on the road. With this, people can save money on gas, prevent traffic congestion and lower carbon dioxide emissions by utilizing bus rental services.

Bus rental also offers more adaptability and flexibility. It is definitely cheaper and a more convenient mode of transportation especially when traveling in big groups. It can also be used in driving around the city while exploring places of interests or serve as a shuttle to the airport so guests are not going to have a hard time carrying their bags and luggage. "Buses are the perfect all-in-one vehicle that can adapt to all your needs," Lucci added.

Moreover, chartered buses nowadays offer modern and stylish interior facilities and amenities. Travelers can choose from a wide range of buses with ample leg room space, TV and entertainment, soft and comfortable seats and even those with toilet and kitchenette provisions. "Travel with our Manhattan charter bus and enjoy the world's major commercial, financial and cultural centers in the heart of "the Big Apple". Visit the Empire State Building, neon-lit Times Square and the theaters of Broadway in style and in comfort," he said.

BusRental.com is one of the most reliable platforms to connect with bus rental service providers in New York and the surrounding areas. They offer easy online web and mobile booking services and their network of providers have a fleet of over 25,000 vehicles. In addition, they offer a price match guarantee to ensure travelers that they are getting only the best deals in the market.

Maria Elena Carbo on Trustpilot said, "It is our 4th year of consecutively using their BusRental.com services for many reasons. Since the first contact requesting a quote online, they send it immediately and everything you need is attended in due time and they are always available for any questions you have. The payment process and confirmation is really fast and easy. Drivers are always on time, as scheduled and they have the best attitude to offer a great service."

"We had an absolutely fantastic time on our trip. Hamilton was also a great driver and very accommodating. The bus far exceeded my expectations and we will definitely be booking again for future group events. Thank you so much," said Victoria Herndon, another one of their many satisfied clients.

Those who are planning to book a bus may visit BusRental.com for more details on how to find the best vehicle for any occasion.
