

Vitaversa Reveals Their Forskolin For Weight Loss Appetite Suppressant

June 30, 2015

June 30, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

VitaVersa in Elkhart, IN has released a new product that is geared toward suppressing appetite and helping users to lose weight. Forskolin is a natural appetite suppressant, produced by the Indian Coleus plant. Interested parties can learn more at <http://vitaversa.com/forskolinextract>

Research has been done on the extract for its ability to lower blood pressure. For centuries, the plant has been used to clear skin disorders and treat a number of other health issues. It has just recently been studied for its effects on weight loss and on building muscle.

Recent studies show that it is also effective at helping users to lose weight, as it did for an attorney in Muncie, IN. Sarah L states "This is great! I have always had a weight problem and just never found anything that helped to curb my eating. Forskolin did it and it's all natural, so I don't have those jittery feelings that I get with regular diet pills."

Several independent studies have been done on the effects of Forskolin extract, and those studies have shown that while it helps to curb the appetite, it also helps to increase lean muscle mass. VitaVersa's

Forskolin extract is 100% natural from the root of the Indian Coleus plant. The capsules contain 250mg of extract.

VitaVersa's spokesperson urges those interested to learn more. "We know that this is a safe alternative to many other supplements and we want everyone to do their own research. Our team has spent a lot of time studying this product to ensure that it does exactly what we claim."

Customers who have tried the extract swear by it. It currently holds 4.8 out of 5 stars on Amazon and is quickly becoming the go-to for people who are looking for a natural alternative to man-made supplements. Many have already begun to see the positive effects, and the company expects more to try in the near future. Because it is all natural, it is even suitable for vegetarians.

With the number of dietary supplements currently on the market, many believe that another will just fall through the cracks. VitaVersa believes otherwise. "We know that it works because we've tried it. We would never sell our customers anything that we didn't fully believe in, and we've had so many people already contacting us raving about the effects."

The supplement is available through Amazon and the company offers a money back guarantee for anyone who is not satisfied with their individual results. They are also offering a free weight loss related eBook with each purchase. VitaVersa's Forskolin is manufactured in the USA and is FDA registered and GMP certified to contain all natural ingredients.
