January 08, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Hilton Home Pros has announced that they are expanding their remodeling services within Hilton, New York. The company provides general contractor services including kitchen and bathroom remodels and outdoor living space building.

An entire list of services provided by Hilton Home Pros can be seen at <https://hiltonhomepros.business.site>. A representative for the company says, "We are pleased to be expanding our service reach to the Hilton area. Homeowners in the area can contact us for a no obligation quote for all of their home remodeling, repair and renovation needs."

The building company provides renovations for homeowners who may want to add additional space or rooms, rebuild existing rooms to give them more functionality and appeal or renovate their properties to place them on the real estate market. The company representative states that they have renovated many homes over the years for clients who were looking to sell their homes and get a higher market price with the sale.

"Just a few minor changes could mean a lot more money in the homeowner's pocket," says the company spokesperson. ?Remodeling an old kitchen to give it a fresh new look or turning a basement into a mancave or otherwise functioning space can help the homeowner to really increase the home?s overall value, which brings more money from the sale.?

Interested homeowners can see more about the company?s service area by visiting them online at <https://goo.gl/maps/Nq7p2PFenN92>. The company representative states that they are now providing their long list of services to home and business owners in Hilton and the surrounding areas. Those interested in learning precisely where they service can contact the company directly to ask questions.

The company states that their process begins with the initial phone call. The homeowner can ask questions about the process, state what they are looking to accomplish from the renovation and get an idea of the overall cost and timeline for the project. The representative for Hilton Home Pros states that they offer affordable yet high quality renovations and remodeling. He states that their remodeling staff is comprised of only experienced, certified and licensed contractors who go out of their way to provide the home that homeowners have always dreamed of owning.

Real estate statistics show that certain features in a home can help it to demand a higher market price. The company representative states that simply providing more flow throughout the home by opening up the space between a living room and kitchen for example, can help the home to bring more on the market, giving the homeowner a great return on their investment. ROI or return on investment is an important factor to consider when remodeling a home. The company states that homeowners can contact them to discuss the potential ROI of a remodeling project and learn more about how those changes can help to make their home worth more on the market.

Hilton Home Pros provides remodeling for all rooms in the home, including bathrooms and kitchens, living spaces, garages and basements. They provide outdoors structures as well such as patios or decks to provide outdoor living spaces for customers. Homeowners in the Hilton, New York area who are considering a remodeling can contact the company directly using the information provided on their website to learn more about the specific line of services that they offer. A list of their services can also be seen online at <https://www.pressadvantage.com/organization/hilton-home-pros>.

The home renovation company states that homeowners can trust in their many years of experience to provide them with changes within a specific room or the entire home. They have contractors available to speak with homeowners to help them to determine the changes that will be best made in specific homes. Those who are interested can visit the company online to get an overview of their services and their experience or contact them directly to schedule a consultation. Hilton Home Pros states that they are proud to be expanding their services and hope to add even more service areas in the future.
