Southern Arizona based AJ's Garage Door Service of Tucson is pleased to announce that they recently received more positive feedback from one of their clients regarding their garage door repair services.

Reyna Villagran said in a Google review that, 'I am impressed with AJ's Garage Door Service. My garage door suddenly stopped working on a Sunday night so I called and left them a message explaining the situation. I got a call back first thing on Monday morning, and they were out within the hour to get things fixed. The price was also a lot lower than what my neighbor told me to expect to pay, so I was very happy.'

AJ's Garage Door Service is a local company that offers garage door repair services to the residents of Tucson and Oro Valley, Arizona. According to their Google My Business website, they provide personalized repair services and competitive pricing to the community. They also take pride in using Arizona-made garage door springs and spare parts to contribute to the growth of the local economy.

'We offer maintenance, repair, and supply of replacement parts for residential garage doors in Tucson and the nearby areas. During site inspections, we thoroughly assess all of the mechanical parts and salvage the ones that can still be reused, so that homeowners will not be forced to buy anything that they don't really need," says Andrew Johns from AJ's Garage Door Service of Tucson.

According to Johns, the company offers professional repair services for all types and brands of residential garage doors. They specialize in fixing mechanical parts such as broken springs, tracks, and pulleys. In addition to this, they provide garage door maintenance and new opener installation as well. "If you feel like your garage door is not functioning as it should be, just give us a call and our technical team will answer all your questions. Tell us what's going on and our top-notch technicians will get to your house and fix your problem in no time," he added.

Johns also highlights the importance of proper and regular maintenance of your garage door and its mechanisms. A fully-functioning garage door primarily provides safety and security. Regular checking and maintenance of garage doors also offers more financial benefits to homeowners in the long run. "Common problems relating to garage doors can easily be fixed. However, if you keep on ignoring them, it might cause the whole system to collapse and result in heavy repair expenses," he said. Generally, proper garage door maintenance includes tightening of nuts and bolts, lubrication of mechanical parts (bearings, hinges, and rollers), adjustment of the door opener and springs, tightening of chain, setting of limit switches, and lubrication of the entire drive mechanism.

Furthermore, should homeowners decide to sell their property, a repaired garage door is a positive factor in the estate's market value appraisal. During property viewings, prospective buyers scrutinize every part of the house, and having a fully-functioning garage door can leave a better impression on them.

Those who are looking for a reliable Tucson garage door repair and maintenance company may consider AJ's Garage Door Service. They are considered one of the top service providers in the area, based on their positive reviews and recommendations online.

Cristina Silha said in a Google review that, "When my garage door wouldn't close all the way, I was very worried about my own safety, as well as my belongings inside the garage. My neighbor told me to call AJ's, and I'm glad I did. Josh was able to come out within a couple of hours and get things working again. The cost of their service was also lower than I expected. I am very happy with my experience with them."

"They are very professional and their service is affordable," says Bill Posch, another satisfied homeowner. "I had an informative phone conversation with one of their staff members, and he managed to schedule my garage door repair for the same day, even though it was on a Saturday. Also, the total bill they gave me was less than I anticipated. I would definitely recommend AJ's Garage Door Service."
