Leafy Grounds, a family-owned and operated company in Montrose, PA, is proud to present the launch of their first tea product, The Tea Steaper. "As a small family-owned business it's exciting to be able to provide this quality product to our tea lovers customer base," says Heidi Stevens of Leafy Ground.

This product is a complete tea steeping system for loose leaf tea drinkers. The steeping system includes a double wall glass mug with stainless steel infuser. Now customers will be able to steep their tea in the very same mug that they'll be drinking it from, saving them time, dishes to wash, and making the entire process of steeping and drinking tea much more enjoyable.

The Tea Steaper is made of borosilicate glass, which is well known for its resistance to temperature change because it does not expand like ordinary glass. The mug is created from hand blown glass and offers an added benefit in a double wall for extra insulation. It will keep your tea warm for long lengths of time. No more running back to the microwave to heat it up every few minutes.

The tea infuser mug has an infuser that is made of high-quality stainless steel and has micro fine holes so your loose leaf tea won't escape into the water as your tea is steeping. You simply fill the infuser with the amount of loose leaf tea you want and drop it into your mug in hot water. It couldn't be easier to enjoy a good cup of steaming tea.

"I couldn't be happier," states Linda, a customer from NY. "I love tea, but I deplore using teabags. This is a high quality infuser that gives me all the benefits of loose tea."

Loose leaf teas have greater health benefits, better aroma and flavor, and are fresher than regular tea bags. With that being said, you want to use the best quality infuser and mug so you get the full effects of your favorite tea.

"Our company is happy to serve your family," states Heidi. "We look forward to building life-long relationships with our tea-loving customers."
