July 10, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Lovage, an online store specializing in Australian certified skincare and cosmetics, has announced the addition of their new customer rewards program. "We are very excited to introduce luxurious, pure and effective Australian organic cosmetics to the world. That's why new "Lovies" receive a 30% off coupon on their first order. Each time you refer a friend, you and your friend get rewarded" states Kristen McKenzie from Lovage.

The company's motto is Lovage ? Beauty sans la beast. They provide organic and toxin-free beauty products to customers around the world. The new rewards program is a means of giving back to their loyal customers.

Customers will accumulate 1 point for every dollar that they spend in Lovage's shop. They are automatically granted 200 points just for signing up for an account and receive an additional 500 points when they refer a friend to the rewards program. Rewards gained from the loyalty program can be used for future purchases. Customers who regularly shop at Lovage will find it even more rewarding with the program in place, as they can gain points toward their makeup and beauty supply needs in the future.

Cindy Slater is a huge fan of rewards programs in general. "I love getting rewards for shopping. I mean, if I have to purchase things anyway, why not get a little extra when I do? Lovage is my go-to for beauty products and the fact that they're offering points that I can use for purchases makes it even better."

Lovage offers skincare products for all skin types from oily to aging. All products are selected based on their ingredients. The company offers 100% natural, medicinal grade herbal and organic beauty supplies. Everything in the store is sustainably sourced, vegan, and cruelty-free.

"We say no to any products that test on animals", says McKenzie. "We just want to provide our customers with great products that are natural, healthy, and guilt-free." All products are guaranteed to be made with ingredients that are not harmful or damaging to skin.

The store has a strict policy to ensure that all products are free from harmful toxins and offers a free 30 day money back guarantee.
