Jackpot Candles Unveils New 100 Percent Soy Wax Candles Made In The USA

July 08, 2015

July 08, 2015 -
Jackpot Candles has revealed their latest line of soy wax jewelry candles through the company's website. To celebrate, they are offering those who sign up to the Jackpot Candles' mailing list a $5 off coupon. It is hoped that this will enable more people to try their candles and experience the benefits.

"Our 100% soy wax candles come in a range of beautiful and enticing scents to please every personal taste," says Nicole Szymanski from JackpotCandles.com. "Inside each of our candles is a hidden piece of jewelry that will reveal itself as the candle burns down. This is a unique concept and we want to encourage more people to try our candles for themselves or as a gift by offering them a $5 off voucher."

Soy wax candles have a range of benefits. The Soy Wax Jewelry Candles from Jackpot Candles are all hand-poured in the USA and they have been scented with high quality essential oils. Soy candles are the cleanest and safest burning candles on the market today. The wax is designed to hold on to oil very strongly, so it will only be released when the candle is actually burned.

Each jewelry candle contains your choice of jewelry item - rings (you can select your size!), necklaces or earrings, that is worth between $15 and $5,000, meaning people could truly hit the jackpot. Customers are also encouraged to follow Jackpot Candles on Facebook, where they can share their experiences with the candle and which jewelry item they found. The Jackpot Candles website even has a link to have the jewelry item appraised without leaving your home!

"We love being social with our customers," adds Nicole. "Every time we sell a candle, we are as excited as our customers are to find out what they will reveal. Imagine buying a candle at $24.95 and finding a jewel worth $5,000 in it! We love hearing from our customers to see what they find."

The company is also very active on Instagram. Here, they share their customer's jewelry reveals, but also giveaways, special offers and more. Followers frequently share their finds through this particular platform as well. In order to announce which jewel was hidden inside the 100% soy wax candle, Jackpot Candle states "people are encouraged to look up the following link Jewelry Reveals: Follow Jackpot Candles on Instagram to join our growing community!"
