January 21, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Jamie Taylor of Taylor Roofs is happy to announce that they are expanding their roofing services to cover the West Lothian region and surrounding areas. These surrounding areas include Falkirk, Livingston Stirling, West of Edinburgh, and East of Glasgow. They are also announcing a new photographic roof inspection service in order to help residents spot damage or problem areas on their roofs.

Taylor Roofs has been in the business of roofing repair and replacement for over 40 years. They are specialists with residential and commercial properties alike, seeking to provide roof work to whoever needs it. Now, with their new expansion of service area, they are able to help more people than ever. Home or business owners who may think they are in need in roof servicing or simply want more information are encouraged to visit their website: <https://taylorroofs.co.uk/>.

Homeowner Robert Murray shared this glowing review on Google after he had work done on his roof by Taylor Roofs, "Absolutely fantastic outfit, very professional and first class service. Have now had a flat extension roof replaced and a separate repair completed on my main roof. Survey was undertaken quickly and with no hassle and the resulting service provided was of superb quality. Jamie and his team are also very professional and courteous. Would highly recommend Taylor Roofs.?

As there are many different types of roofs, Taylor Roofs offers a variety of roof services. Roof repairs and roof replacements are among their most commonly requested services, but they also offer flat roofing, roofline and roughcasting, and a roofing maintenance contract. Homeowners who have more questions about Taylor Roofs, where the roofs are ?taylor made,? are invited to visit their location: <https://goo.gl/maps/tDFQjXBCKf12>.

Claire Livingston was glad to share this 5-star review about the service she received, ?We would highly recommend Taylor Roofing. They were able to prioritise our emergency job at short notice and did an excellent job (redesigning of roof tiles and guttering overlapping our neighbours roofs, as well as replacement hips and ridges). The team kept us informed at all stages of the works, they were polite, hard working and friendly... even clearing up at the end of each day. By far the best experience of tradesmen we've encountered, we wouldn't hesitate to use them again for any future roofing work.?

With the cold-weather season here, it is imperative for homeowners to keep their roofs in mind. While it may not be crucial to have a roofing specialist come out immediately, it may be valuable to schedule a spring visit now. Once the spring thaw starts, most homeowners start to be concerned about their roofs and Taylor Roofs often has a full schedule just two weeks in. They encourage homeowners to be proactive about their roofs and call as soon as possible, even if roof repair isn't an immediate necessity. Alternatively, if roof repair is imperative, call Taylor Roofs right away.

Sally Irawan, a recurring client for Taylor Roofs, shared this 5-star review on Google, detailing her many experiences with the company, ?Great service. Have used Taylor Roofs a couple of times now. Firstly to replace my guttering which I am really pleased with and recently to check what look like a tile having come lose. Jamie came out in the wind and rain to have a look, braving the weather went up the ladder and put it back securely in it's place. No job is too small. Would highly recommend.?

As Sally mentioned in her review, Taylor Roofs replaced her guttering initially. Though this isn't a service that is explicitly listed on the website, they were happy to oblige with the request. Home and business owners who have any questions about services Taylor Roofs may perform are encouraged to call today.
