LiveEco has suggested that kids put the LiveEco emoji fun erasers in emoji party bags and give them as gifts to other kids on Valentine's Day. The novelty erasers are available in bulk packs of 60 erasers made up of 12 kinds of emoji expressions. What makes these erasers unique is that they can make schoolwork fun for the children. And most of all, kids learn that they should not be afraid to make mistakes because they can always correct it, just like they do when they happen to make a mistake in their schoolwork, which they can easily erase and then make the necessary correction.

Christina Abels, spokesperson for LiveEco, says, "This coming Valentine's Day, one of the practical gifts that your kids can give to their friends or classmates is our emoji erasers. Our erasers will help encourage fun and positivity in the class room and at home. You will receive 60 mini erasers with your purchase of our LiveEco bulk pack of erasers. Each eraser has soft edges to create a nice smooth eraser mark and is printed with crisp emoji graphics. Our popular erasers also fit easily in a child's pocket, so they can travel with them anywhere."

Both parents and teachers have expressed their satisfaction with the bulk novelty erasers. For example, one

Amazon customer gave the erasers a five star rating and said, "My wife and I like to purchase unique little items for our kids and their classrooms. My wife, being a former teacher, is pretty attune to classroom needs. Saw these emoji erasers on Amazon and thought they would be pretty fun for our kids. Received these in the mail today and as soon as my kids saw them there were shouts of joy. "Wow! Dad, are these emoji erasers for us!" "I love this one." Overall we are extremely pleased with this set....?"

Another Amazon customer also gave the emoji erasers five stars and said, "These Emoji erasers were a big hit for my granddaughters' (ages 7 and 8) birthday parties. They are very cute and actually erase very well. The packaging was perfect and there was a wonderful assortment. I would have preferred a pack of 60, but that was unavailable, so I am saving some for my grandson's birthday party as well. I put them in goody bags with some gel pens and regular but pretty pencils."

Teachers and parents have also discovered that the emoji erasers offered a great way to reward kids and encourage them to be positive. Each eraser is provided with soft edges so children will be able to erase anything neatly without any smudges. The erasers are also made using materials that are recycled, safe and non-toxic. Both parents and teachers have also found out that these erasers are ideal for party favors, prizes, rewards, and school supplies.

Christina Abels wants to emphasize that because the emoji erasers make schoolwork fun and exciting, this allows the children to create good memories about school and their childhood. And the smiling faces on the erasers will encourage the kids to smile too, providing last impressions for them that they can look back to when they have become adults.

Meanwhile, LiveEco is committed to achieving sustainability in its manufacturing procedures and thus, wants to ensure that it has the smallest carbon footprint possible while producing its different products. At the present time, they are able to attain sustainability and minimize their carbon footprint by utilizing recyclable plastic and similar materials in the manufacture of their products like the emoji party bags and novelty erasers, working with Carbonfun.org so that they are assured that their shipping methods are carbon-neutral, donating a percentage of sales to environmental charities such as Rainforest Alliance and Earth Justice, and inspecting their facilities regularly to make sure they are complying with all environmental protection laws.

Those who want more information regarding the erasers or the use of LiveEco's party favor bags for its emoji erasers as Valentine's Day gifts can check out their website or call them by phone.
