VENTURE 4TH is a supplier of camping and traveling accessories. The company recently announced that they are now offering their popular money belt in a number of new and innovative color variations. Originally provided in black, gray, silver, brown and beige, the company announced that the money carrier is now also available in colors of red, blue, purple, green and turquoise.

Patricia Wright, a representative for the company says, "We know that travelers want some excitement, even when it comes to their accessories. While other companies offer similar items in boring or dull color variations, we believe that our new addition of colors are going to appeal to a wide number of customers. These new colors will help customers to bring in 2019 with some modern and fresh accessories."

Wright states that the belt is not only fashionable, but beneficial for those who are traveling as it contains RFID technology. RFID blocks credit card and debit card strips from being read through wallets and other carriers. This technology helps to keep travelers safe from identity and other thefts. The travel money belt now comes in a total of 10 exciting colors. Wright states that this enables those carrying it to match it to their ensemble or simply purchase one in their favorite color.

Statistics show that many travelers, particularly those traveling to foreign countries or otherwise new places, are the victims of theft more today than ever before. Wright states that their RFID money pouch helps to add security for those who are traveling. The company states that they have designed the pouch to be lightweight and ergonomic so that users can slip it out of sight in a pocket or underneath clothing. It features double stitching to make it durable and rip-proof nylon material. Wright states that their belts are also adjustable and fitted with elastic so that they can fit men or women and feature separated mesh compartments to keep money and cards organized.

“The best feature of course, is the RFID blocking lining,” says Wright. “This helps users to feel safer, keep their cards and other information free from prying eyes and generally enjoy their travels much more. And now with the new color selections, there is a belt that is literally perfect for everyone.”

The anti-theft pouch is one of many travel accessories by VENTURE 4TH. Wright states that the company’s goal is to provide products that will enable users to better enjoy their travels or their time outdoors. The company offers a wide range of traveling and camping accessories, all featured on their official website and offered for sale in the Amazon marketplace. Wright says that they are pleased to have these new colors available to customers, just in time for the New Year. Customers who are interested can see all of the money pouches in their available colors by visiting the company on their official Amazon seller’s page.

Wright states that customers can also learn more by visiting them on any of their social media pages. She states that their Amazon and website pages offer testimonials from past customers who have purchased the money pouch and other items to give consumers an idea of the quality of their products.

Those interested in learning more about the company and the camping and traveling products that they offer can visit them online. Wright states that the new colors for their popular money pouch are now available for ordering and their Amazon page shows the pouch in each new color so that customers can get an idea of how they look in each new hue. The RFID technology is designed to protect travelers from a number of theft types, which Wright states is essential in today’s society. She states that anyone who has questions about the technology or any of the products that the company sells is welcome to contact them through their Amazon page or through their official website.
