July 01, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

There is good news for all Southern California residents and all those in need of quality photo booth rental services. Pixabooth rental Simi Valley, an award-winning photo booth rental specialist service, has just opened its doors and welcomes all those in need of a beautiful and fun memories of their special events in high quality pictures. The company has opened an office in Simi Valley, California, and now accepts reservations for professional photo booth rentals featuring the newly weds, family, friends and all photo booth lovers in this life-changing event. What sets them apart is that they are not just a traditional cramped space booth but a modern day open aired photo booth rental company. With current statistics standing at over 80% of all booked photography in California being digital only, their services are a savior thanks to their state of the art modern equipment.

Digital photo booth rentals have become a must have service for any event including weddings, high school reunions, charities, corporate events and birthday parties. The list of events requiring photo booth rental services is endless. Actually, photo booths have become so synonymous with events that no special event can be crowned without profession quality photo shoots to keep as treasured memorabilia.

Everyone, from event coordinators, photographers to hotels and venues, have in one time or the other scrambled to find ways to incorporate this unique and exciting concept to their line of work. With all the photo booth services opening up each and every other day, it has become quite a daunting task for those in need of the services to find just the right photo booth to complete their special event. Lets face it, all photo booth rental services offer photo shooting services and will be more than willing to offer their services to you. So, what really sets them apart? Plain and simple, it's the quality of service offered. Its a sad reality that most do not even come close to doing this.

After photographing and attending many events, we realized quick that photo booth quality was really lacking....we sought out to create a photo booth that is both modern and high quality?, said the Simi Valley, California based team. Their words explain it all taking into account that they offer innovative modern services that can blend in with a wide range of locations without any compromise on picture quality. This is just what has been long awaited for. In addition to this, their sleek modern designer open- air booth offer lots of advantages over the traditional photo booths. Reviews of their services are already creating a stir in Los Angeles, Malibu and Beverly Hills and Westlake Village among other areas where their services have made a mark.

Among the must mention innovations that Pixabooth has brought to the market is their sleek styling that incorporates well with any venue setting with little or no intrusion. Other than that, their elegant design also brings superior setup flexibility with capacity to blend in well with just about any venue regardless of aspects such as timing and natural lighting. To factor in poor lighting that greatly affects image quality, their studio lighting coupled in with a pair of professional level DSLR cameras come in handy ensuring that images are of a high quality compared to other photo booth setups.

Just what really makes Pixabooth stand out.

State of the art booth

Unlike other out dated photo booths, what Pixabooth offers is a state of the art open air photo booth experience. What's more, their booth has capacity to comfortably accommodate 8 to 9 people and if need be, more people may also fit in.

Having an inborn passion of photography makes Pixabooth team great in their job as they love what they do.

As part of customer services offered by Pixabooth, every client who takes photos with them receives a copy at that very instance. In addition to this, clients are welcomed to use Pixabooth services as much as they please to. This is a quite an unheard of offer from a photo booth company.

Fun Props.

Pixabooth have all the prop loving photo enthusiasts covered. They have props ranging classic photo booth props such as sunglasses, mustaches, high quality hats, chalkboards to boas. Just about anything a customer may need is offered. This makes them a great choice considering that they stock each event with props that are geared to make the best photos for any event needs

Cool and stylish backdrops.

Their large collection of backdrops are stylish and fun to use. The wide collection also gives clients a wide selection to choose from. Whats more, they offer customers the privilege of making orders on their custom backdrops.

Reliability.

They take customer events seriously and just as any customer would expect of a professional photo booth. As a result of this, they are always on time to deliver.

Local Ownership.

Pixabooth is fully owned and run in Ventura County, Southern California. Their office is local therefore has a reputation to protect and this they do to the best of abilities unlike other photo booths. They avail their own professional at customers events just to ensure that everything runs smoothly.

Ease of access to photos after an event.

All packages offered by Pixabooth include an online gallery. Using the online gallery, clients get to view and download photos at absolutely no cost. Another plus for clients is that photos may be shared instantly to Facebook and Twitter from the gallery. High quality prints may be hand-picked from the Pixabooth print shop.

Space

Space can be an issue when transporting and setting up photo shoot equipment. This has been taken into account by the Pixabooth team. Their typical setup includes a backdrop, backdrop stand, printer, and photo booth equipment that all fit into 9ft by 9ft floor space and a height of about 8ft. In some instances, this space may not be available. In such cases, they usually modify their setup where necessary to fit well.

Prices

Their prices are also quite industry competitive and affordable considering the highly professional services and experience they have. A comprehensive list of their prices can be got at their website or by contacting them on (805) 842-1656.

There is a gallery at their website displaying samples of their work. However, this is just a tip of the iceberg. Experience Pixabooth in person will give you real experience of unsurpassed dimension of fun but quality shoot.

By giving Pixabooth rental services a try, memories of the photo booth experience will stick out and you will get to join the league of satisfied Pixabooth clients.
