

KnivesShipFree.com Announces The Exclusive Release Of The Lon Humphrey Scout Knife

July 14, 2015

July 14, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

KnivesShipFree.com has recently earned the exclusive right to distribute the Lon Humphrey scout knife. This highly sought after knife, created by bladesmith Lon Humphrey, is expected to become a highly demanded item as knife enthusiasts come to learn more about their creator and the unique level of care he brings to each blade.

KnivesShipFree.com is excited to be the sole distributor of the Lon Humphrey scout knives. Derrick, owner at KnivesShipFree.com, is delighted. "We've been carrying a lot of brands when it comes to knives, but teaming up with Lon Humphrey and being the only one to sell his magnificent knives is an incredible opportunity," he stated. "Lon has been gaining popularity lately, and we're really excited in seeing the developments of our business team-up!"

The scout knife was envisioned and crafted within Lon Humphrey's standards of excellence. Humphrey utilizes a forge, anvil, and hammer to create each knife. Each is fashioned by hand in a time when even most high-quality products are the result of an assembly line manufacturing process. Not so with Humphrey, he takes pride in the level of care and attention that goes into each and every blade.

The recent partnership between Lon Humphrey and KnivesShipFree.com is hoped to create a higher demand for the entire custom knife market segment. "We plan on marketing the knives as much as we can. We want it to be decently priced, too. We want to let knife enthusiasts experience the differences between an ordinary knife versus a knife created by Mr. Humphrey himself," Derrick explained. "As we continue to generate sales for these precious knives, we are sure that Lon will receive all the recognition he deserves."

Many customers who have purchased their knives on KnivesShipFree.com have expressed full satisfaction. Chris, a passionate hunter, swears by the knife. "I've never touched a knife like this. It's rather impressive, like it has a life of its own," he mused.

Humphrey and KnivesShipFree.com hope to forge a long-lasting partnership while demand grows for Humphrey's exclusive brand. Both organizations express their gratitude in receiving the opportunity to delight knife enthusiasts for generations to come.
