

SAHE Products Announces Launch Of New Tea Infuser

January 31, 2019

January 31, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

SAHE Products, a company based in Irving, Texas, has announced the official launch of their new tea infuser. The product is designed to allow consumers to bring along their favourite drink while travelling. The tea infuser doubles as a travel cup with durable double walled glass and stainless steel, guaranteed to be durable.

A representative for the company says, "We are pleased to add this tea infuser to our list of kitchen products, all of which are designed to provide functionality and longevity for our customers. We manufacture all of our products with our customers in mind and produce products that will make their lives easier."

The tea infuser, which can be seen on the Amazon marketplace at <https://amzn.to/2TaS8My>, is a loose leaf tea water bottle that features a neoprene sleeve for keeping drinks safe and cold. The company states that it is lightweight and fits perfectly into gym bags or purses. The bottle is designed to be leak-free to help avoid messes and the size fits into cup holders in cars, chairs and treadmills.

"Customers can take this along with them to the gym and it will fit into any standard water bottle holder on gym equipment," says the company representative. "And, users can add their favourite loose leaf teas and it will infuse them perfectly."

SAHE Products is a small family owned and operated business that produces household products that are designed to be safe for the environment and for the people who use them. The company states that the tea infuser is free from any harmful chemicals or toxins and fits in with their line of green household products. The company offers a wide range of kitchen accessories such as bamboo mats and other products, as well as various fitness products through the Amazon marketplace.

SAHE Products states that they remain committed to protecting their customers and the environment. They offer products that are eco-friendly and those that offer benefits to their customers. The company states that they thoroughly test each and every product before they offer it to their customers, to ensure that those products meet with their high quality standards.

Previous products offered by the company can be seen on their Amazon seller's page. The company spokesperson states that those who are interested can also read through past customer reviews on their Amazon page. Reviews are all positive and claim that the company provides the, "Best products for kitchen needs." One consumer states that they, "Love these products and the fact that they are environmentally friendly and safe for families." Previous products launched by the company include a non-stick baking mat and various fitness products such as a hand strengthener and a wobble cushion that is designed for core workouts.

SAHE Products says that they have always been dedicated to preserving the environment and in doing so, they offer only the most quality made products that are guaranteed to be free of harmful chemicals and materials. The company states that they go out of their way to ensure that all of the products that they design and offer for sale go along with their quest to protect the environment and to keep their customers and their families safe. The new infuser is now available for purchase on the Amazon.uk site. Those interested can learn more about the infuser and how it works by visiting SAHE Products online.

Those who are interested in learning more about the benefits of the company's new tea infuser can do so on their Amazon page for that product. Their official Amazon seller's page also offers general information about the company and a listing of the other household and fitness products that they currently offer for sale. The company states that customers are always welcome and encouraged to leave reviews for them about the products that they have purchased. Those who need to contact the company directly can do so through their Amazon page or via email.
