January 31, 2019 -
Memphis Homebuying Pros has announced that they are willing to buy and pay cash for homes in Memphis, Tennessee. The company is offering to purchase houses in 38128 and all across Memphis. They expect to offer assistance to many homeowners who are wondering how to sell their house fast because the conventional methods of selling a home take a very long time and will even requiring paying a commission to a real estate agent. Those who want to know more about the company can visit the web page https://www.pressadvantage.com/organization/memphis-homebuying-pros.

A Memphis Homebuying Pros spokesperson explains, ?Memphis Homebuying Pros is not a realtor. We are not a listing service or an advertising company. We do not search for interested homebuyers for your property. We do not represent any third party. We are a company that buys houses directly from homeowners. We do not work with or through realtors, any agencies or network of affiliates. We are the buyer and we deal with only property owners in 38128, Memphis.?

Being direct buyers in Tennessee, Memphis Homebuying Pros will not charge any commissions or fees. Homeowners will also not be required to pay for property appraisal, inspection, and other processes that are often needed when selling a house. Many homeowners will often be required to pay for several property inspections and repairs for different homebuyers, regardless of whether they will really buy the house or not. For homeowners who are in need of cash will often find this to be prohibitive.

The spokesperson continues, ?You cannot sell a house in seven days if you are relying on a realtor. It may take you weeks. If you are trying to sell your house directly to a homebuyer then you may have to wait for months. It is possible for your house to remain listed for even a year and you might have to consider alternatives anyway. The only way you can sell your property in seven days is if you consider Memphis Homebuying Pros.? The cash offer by Memphis Homebuying Pros will be followed up with an expedited sale. The company will be closing the deal immediately after the homeowner has accepted the offer. Nevertheless, it should be noted that the homeowner has no obligation to accept the offer. In fact, the homeowner can take his or her time to weigh the various options and then make an informed decision. But once the decision has been made to accept the offer, the company will move swiftly because they have the funds ready to finance the purchase and they don?t have to wait for a bank approval. They also don?t need to wait for the approval of a third party on the terms of the sale. The result is that the homeowner can sell a house in 38128 and have possession of the cash within seven days.

Memphis Homebuying Pros is ready to buy houses of all kinds in any neighborhood in 38128 or Memphis. It would not matter whether the home is in the best condition or it is in dire need of repairs. This is one more thing that can make it difficult for homeowners to sell their house fast through the usual channels. Homes that need a lot of repairs, possibly even renovation, will need to be repaired or renovated in order to be marketable. If not, it would be almost impossible to sell the house. Furthermore, most homebuyers will insist that repairs or renovations be made first before they become interested. For those who really need a lot of cash, for one reason or another, will certainly find it a big hindrance the need to have the house repaired or renovated.
