San Mateo Tree Leaders Announces Tree Service Expansion

January 28, 2019

January 28, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

San Mateo Tree Leaders in San Mateo, California has announced an expansion of tree services in San Mateo and the Bay area. The company recently announced that they are now offering their professional services to the neighboring communities around San Mateo.

Angela Wallace, a representative for the company says, "We are pleased to now be offering our tree removal and pruning services to those who are located outside of San Mateo. Our goal has always been to help property owners keep their properties safe and beautiful. We can now provide this service to anyone with a home or business in Foster City, Belmont and other regions."

The company states that they hire only the most qualified arborists who are experienced and certified in their fields. They state that the addition of new employees along with a fleet of vehicles and new equipment will allow them to provide their services to more home and business owners in the outlying areas. Those who are interested in learning more about their new service areas can visit the company's Google Maps page at <https://goo.gl/maps/Wc5FSCDFYmw>.

Wallace continues, "Having trees is a wonderful way to add beauty and value to a property. Unfortunately, weather and other issues can wreak havoc on those trees, particularly if they are not properly pruned and trimmed on a regular basis. Winter rains and heavy winds could bring those trees down and anything in their path could be damaged."

Wallace states that regularly maintaining trees is an important responsibility of property owners. She says that many property owners have no idea of how dangerous a tree can be if it is not pruned and kept trimmed regularly. Statistically, millions of dollars in damages have been done to homes, vehicles and other items due to falling branches. Injury-wise, there have been numerous reported cases of people being injured, sometimes with life-threatening injuries, due to being hit with a falling branch. Wallace says that this can be avoided by simply having trees maintained on a regular basis.

The company states that those who would like to schedule an estimate for their tree service needs will find more information at their tree services website for San Mateo, CA. Wallace states that all of their services, including stump removal, tree trimming and emergency services, will now be available to those who live outside of San Mateo. The company also provides information on their website about trees in general and how and why they need to be regularly maintained.

Wallace says that unhealthy trees are not only dangerous but they can lower property values. Those who are considering selling a home or business could potentially raise the market value by having dead or dying trees removed or having healthy trees pruned so that they remain healthy.

Wallace continues that trees that have grown too close to structures could potentially cause issues with the structure itself if roots grow too close to the foundation. She says that instances like these need to be evaluated as soon as they are noticed in order to solve those issues before they become a major problem. Foundations that are cracked or broken by growing roots could cost thousands of dollars to repair. Wallace states that a simple evaluation could eliminate this problem and catch any potential issues before they begin.

The company states that they are thrilled to now be offering their expert tree services to those outside of San Mateo. They state that because of their loyal customers, they are able to expand their service area and could potentially expand to even more new areas in the near future. Wallace states that those who have questions or would like to learn more about what the company does can visit them on their website. The website offers general information about tree care and service as well as direct contact information for those who prefer to call or email to schedule a no obligation estimate. Wallace says that the company welcomes questions and are happy to help customers better understand the importance of healthy trees.
