July 17, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

MIT Enterprise Forum (MITEF) San Diego is happy to announce that the Tobin James Cellars have been added to the MITEF wine social. The 2015 annual wine social will now feature 40 boutique wineries for people to enjoy. Tobin James is most famous for its variety of wines, which has given the cellars the reputation of "Paso Robles in a Glass".

"We are pleased to have a CaliforniaFineWineries.com listed Preferred Winery as part of our offering of 40 boutique wineries at the event," says Anita Rush, Executive Director of the San Diego MIT Enterprise Forum Chapter. "We now have 40 different boutique wineries that will be showcasing their products at the annual wine social, so it is bound to be a brilliant event."

The Tobin James Cellars are found 8 miles to the east of Paso Robles. They will be attending the MITEF Wine Social on July 29, 2015. This will be held at the Birch Aquarium at the Scripps Institution for Oceanography in La Jolla, CA. It is a stunning location that is frequently enjoyed outside of wine events as well. During the event, people will be able to enjoy the different wines from the cellars that are present at the social, but also a mouthwatering menu.

This MITEF wine social is the 12th annual event. MITEF first started running the wine social in an attempt to help their members create perfect connections. This is achieved by bringing together top level decision makers in an environment that is both relaxing and fun, allowing for an easier flow of conversation. Tickets are available from www.winesocial.org.

MITEF San Diego is an organization made up entirely of volunteers who are all tech-minded. They have come together in order to create networking and education opportunities and programs with the ultimate goal of building a much stronger community for business leaders, technologists, entrepreneurs and capital and service providers.
