Dependable Homebuyers Nashville has reported that the real estate market is cooling and that the sellers? market has now turned into a buyers? market. As a result, Nashville homes are much more difficult to sell, spending more time on the market, and are being sold for less. This also means that homes that are not in perfect shape will be almost impossible to sell. Nevertheless, Dependable Homebuyers is still offering to buy any home in Nashville, Tennessee, in any condition. This provides a good alternative for homeowners who want to sell their home without the need to making any repairs. Recently, the company has issued a press release on short sales in Nashville, which can be read at https://www.pressadvantage.com/story/24435-real-estate-consultants-offer-advice-on-short-sales-in-nashville-tennessee.

Evan Roberts, spokesperson from Dependable Homebuyers, says, ?We have noticed that the real estate market is currently in a cooling phase such that it has now shifted from a sellers? market into a buyers? market. What this means is that the demand for homes has dropped down significantly, which in turn means that it has become much more difficult, if not impossible, to sell a home that is not in the best shape. If you are in a situation where you really need to sell your home fast Fortunately, we are not realtors but are professional home buyers. We will be buying homes directly and unlike a real estate agent, we don?t have to look for buyers for your home.?

Evan Roberts points out that the process of selling a house usually takes several week or even a few months. And with the current state of the real estate market, this will even take longer. And even if the seller is lucky enough to get an offer, it will not likely be the asking price that will provide a significant return on investment. Evan says, ?The only way you can be assured of a sale and that it will be done quickly is by choosing Dependable Homebuyers. We buy houses in Nashville, Tennessee, and we do so immediately.?

And because Dependable Homebuyers in Nashville will be directly buying the home and has ready cash for such a purchase, there would be no delay caused by waiting for bank approval. There is no need to list the home anywhere and all the seller will need to do is contact Dependable Homebuyers, who will then send some representatives who will visit the home at a time that is convenient for the seller and provide and offer within 24 hours.

Previous clients of Dependable Homebuyers only have positive things to say about Dependable Homebuyers. For instance, Lauren W. says, ?I was originally skeptical, until I spoke with Evan over the phone. I should have called sooner. They provided me the best option for selling my home and I couldn?t be happier!?

Evan Roberts points out that the process they use for determining the price to be offered for a particular house will depend on its location, what repairs are required, and the present condition of the home, and the recent values of comparable houses within the area. In effect, the responsibility for selling the house at a profit will be the responsibility of Dependable Homebuyers. The seller receives a fair value for the home and he or she can decide to accept it or not.

Selling a house in Nashville is never an easy task and with the current state of the real estate market, this has been made even more difficult. Furthermore, realtors will ask of a commission, which will further the reduce the amount of money available to the seller. And entertaining several potential buyers would be very tiring for the seller. According to Evan Roberts, there is no easy and simple way to sell a home, even more so when the house is in need of repair.

Dependable Homebuyers Nashville provides a totally free a nonobligatory offer to buy a house. Home sellers will not need to pay anything nor are they obliged to accept the offer.
