July 16, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

PT Cross Reference, a company based in Las Vegas, NV, has recently announced the launch of their new OEM Belts Interchange. The interchange will assist parts people, and companies that sell belts, allowing them to quickly look up belt inquiries from customers in their own brands.

"With more than 435,000 belts and from 1,400 brands this universal belt interchange is a great resource for parts professionals within agriculture, automotive, industrial, and lawn & garden industries. There are over 66,000,000 interchange possibilities with our 16 ways of cross referencing belts from Brand to Manufacturer to OEM to Reseller," says Craig Johnson, spokesman for PT Cross Reference.

Individuals or businesses can sign up for a free account. Free account holders can look up belts and verify attributes and dimensions of those belts. Members however, have affordable options for monthly or annual subscriptions, giving them full access to matching belt brands.

Members can also request a specialized brand list to be presented to save them time in crossing to their specific brand. Membership starts at $20.00 per month, or $180.00 per year.

"If a customer approaches you with a belt that is outside the normal scope of part numbers, PT Cross can identify the belt and show you the matches in the brand you sell," says Johnson.

PT Cross invites potential members to meet Marc, a belt seller. Matching brands will include Bando, Browning, Carlisle, Dayco, D&D Power Drive, Dunlop, Durkee Atwood, Fenner, Gates, Goodyear, Jason, MBL, Optibelt, Pirelli, Pix, Thermoid, Uniroyal, Woods Mfg and more.

"With PT Cross taking care of cross-referencing, you're free to focus on satisfying your customers and, ultimately, selling more belts," stated one already satisfied user of the interchange. "It just saves me so much time, and a lot of money considering I can look through the various sellers and find the one that fits my scope and budget."

Businesses and consumers can learn more by visiting PT Cross Reference online. The interchange is available to any business or parts professional and is currently loaded with tens of thousands of belts and information.
