LiveEco has come out with cute erasers bearing a multitude of different emoji faces, from bright smiley faces, to naughty smirks and tear-streaked laughing emojis. LiveEco?s emoji erasers can serve as quick and easy rewards for children. LiveEco maintains that, ?it has been proven that one of the best motivators for good behaviour is using incentives and rewards. Our LiveEco Emoji Erasers make an affordable, fun, and effective reward for children!?

The erasers attempt to add an element of fun to the work children are set at school, that they might otherwise find boring or tedious. LiveEco states that, ?Emoji face erasers have kids actually excited to go to school to use them.? The bright and colourful erasers, though inherently a useful item, have all the appeal of a toy to a child. With LiveEco?s emoji erasers, work becomes an enjoyable fact of life with a fun reward at the end.

LiveEco?s erasers also create an incentive for learning. ?When kids are excited to learn and are having fun, it makes lessons much more memorable,? said LiveEco. The erasers, while being an item a child might treasure and simply enjoy having, also serve a practical purpose as a school implement. As stated by LiveEco, ?With our fun emoji faced school supplies, kids won?t fear making mistakes, because they can simply erase it and start over using their cool emoji erasers. The erasers, according to their manufacturer, also help children keep a positive attitude at school.

With emojis rapidly becoming a new, unique form of communication, it is even possible to communicate using only emojis. LiveEco noted that, "With the popularity of these fun little pictures, you can be sure anyone will love to receive these 3D graphic emotion erasers," and they would love a message delivered via the eraser even more. As LiveEco offers the Erasers in bulk, with a single purchase including up to sixty erasers, there are more than enough to last a very long while, possibly even to last a full year off one purchase alone.

LiveEco's pencil top erasers aim to fill the same role as the company's emoji erasers, bringing joy and entertainment to a child's otherwise mundane educational activities. These are also sold in packs of 60 and are similarly likely to last a long while.

Additionally, LiveEco offers emoji-themed party bags. These bags, according to LiveEco, "allow kids to express their unique personality by choosing their favorite emoji." The bags measure 9" by 12" and serve as a way to, "take home a personal slice of the party." They can be used to store sweets or small gifts and prizes, such as the company's famous emoji erasers.

Working with CarbonFun, LiveEco has succeeded in making the shipping of their emoji bags carbon-neutral in an attempt at going green for the good of the environment. LiveEco has expressed a deep concern for, "sustainability and giving back to the environment," and they ensure that their products are manufactured using 10-20% recycled materials. They also strive to maintain as small a carbon footprint as possible and use as many sustainable manufacturing processes as possible.

LiveEco maintains a commitment to, "making life fun and exciting" especially for kids, and believe their brightly coloured bags are an embodiment of that commitment. Each purchase includes 40 bags; 10 smiling faces with heart eyes, 10 laughing with tears of joy, 10 blowing a kiss, and 10 crazy faces. The bags, like the erasers, allow for a form of self-expression in children with the variety of emojis available, and they can also be used as an incentive to motivate children.

The bags come with a lifetime "No-Rip" guarantee. LiveEco stated that, "The reason we have been listed as "Amazon's Choice" and have the largest number of reviews for emoji party favour bags is that we pride ourselves on delivering top quality products. We want you to be completely happy and satisfied with your purchase of our deluxe emoji party bags." LiveEco further assures customers that they need not have any concerns about their, "premium emoji bags ripping or tearing."
