Federal Workers Are Getting Squeezed With Shutdown

Family Title Loans has announced assistance for families who are struggling with debt. The company offers tools and resources that help consumers to save money for the future. Due to the recent government shutdown, FTL states that they have assisted a number of families in overcoming their financial difficulties and becoming better prepared for future financial issues.

A representative for the company says, ?Even without the recent government shutdown, families are struggling. The environment as a whole is impacting people and we all need to be more prepared. We have experienced agents who are able to help families to better understand their debt and how they can overcome it, putting away money for a rainy day at the same time.?

FTL is a California based consumer finance company that has been providing financial resources to consumers in and around Los Angeles for more than two decades. The company states that families during the shutdown struggled to even keep food on the table. Homes that were accustomed to having two paychecks coming in were suddenly cut down to just one paycheck. Any family who lives paycheck to paycheck would have struggled during this time.

?Even though the government is back up and running, that doesn?t mean that there won?t be issues in the future,? says the company representative. ?Government shutdown is something that has happened in every administration. Even for families who are not affected by federal shutdowns, there needs to be a plan in place to prepare for future issues. Someone could get sick and not be able to work. Medical bills could pile up. Homes could be in need of major repairs. Families need to be prepared for anything that could happen, and we can help.?

The company states that they offer more information on their services, as well as recent announcements regarding them and their services on their news page at Press Advantage. Those interested can visit the news page to learn more.

FTL currently has more than 300 storefront locations throughout California and state that they help a number of clients regularly. The company representative says that no one ever expects financial difficulties. These things sneak up and can take families off guard. If and when financial issues do come up, the company states that a strong plan should be in place that can help the family to get through those issues.

The company offers a wide range of financial tools and resources that are designed to help those who may otherwise have difficulties finding help for financial crisis. They state that even those who have faced financial difficulties in the past, those without perfect credit or who may have other issues that would make them ineligible for other assistance can contact the company for help. They state that they work with customers from all backgrounds and with all types of credit through their various financial planning services and other tools.

The company?s website offers information and testimonials from other clients who have received assistance due to corporate lay-offs, government shutdowns and other issues. Those who are interested are welcome to visit the company online to learn more and to read through any or all of their past customer reviews. Customers praise the company for their fast work and their leniency when it comes to past financial histories where other institutions may be stricter and more difficult to work with.

Those who are interested in learning more about FTL and the resources that they offer can visit the company on their official company website. The website offers a wide range of planning articles for a healthier financial future as well as calculators and other tools. Eligibility requirements can also be found on the website, as well as contact information and location directions for those who would like to speak with a representative from the financial company. Those interested can visit FTL in person at any of their California locations or contact them via phone or email to learn more.
