July 14, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Rapid Crush, Inc., an online marketing business in Valencia, CA has released new information aimed at teaching people how to create products in just two hours of work. As an online marketer, their goal is to help other people become financially independent and be their own boss by working from home. Their methods allow people to achieve this with great ease by teaching them what creating digital products is all about.

"We believe that the key to making money online is selling information," says John S. Rhodes from Rapid Crush, Inc. "Information is what the internet is all about. People want to get to know products, services and companies before they decide to engage with them. As such, info-products are the gold rush of the online world and we can teach people how to create these in just two hours."

The program is designed for current work at home moms, stay at home dads and anyone else who wants to make money by working from home. What it teaches people is essentially how to create products that are guaranteed to sell. While this may sound too good to be true, it actually really is that easy.

"Our CEO Jason Fladlien walks you through step by step, showing everything that is needed to create a top selling digital product," adds John S. Rhodes. "It really isn't rocket science, nor does it require any previous experience or training in either online or offline marketing. Basically, we teach people how to be their own boss and no longer have to work for 'the man' again."

Jason Fladlien is quoted as saying: "Creating your own info-products really is the easiest thing in the world to do. My step by step instructions are in plain English and really easy to understand. Read through them and you will be ready to get started."

Rapid Crush, Inc. is one of the world's top marketing companies and they have always been involved in sharing their knowledge with the rest of the world, encouraging people to make something of themselves and be empowered to start earning for themselves, not for someone else.
