A Bolton based company has announced that they are providing UK residents with the ability to apply for their National Insurance Number online. Nino Application states that the UK has seen quite an influx of applicants over the past few months, so much so that the HMRC has been forced to open their offices on the weekends in order to deal with the overflow of applicants.

David Grimshaw, a representative for the company says, "Although the UK seems to be in turmoil still over Brexit, the number of European citizens who are currently registering for their National Insurance Number continues to increase. We hope to help with these numbers by offering an online portal where European residents can apply for the National Insurance Number online, as opposed to waiting in line at the HMRC offices."

David says that in order to fill in the application for the UK National Insurance Number, residents simply visit the company at <https://ninoapplication.com/apply-for-national-insurance-number/> and fill in the form carefully and correctly. He states that their easy step-by-step application process makes it much simpler for residents to apply for their insurance number without having to contact the HMRC office and wait in line, sometimes for hours.

Once the application has been filled in and submitted, the NINO staff will process the application and book the Evidence of Identity interview for the applicant. An email confirmation will be sent confirming the date, location and time of the interview, as well as the unique reference number that is needed for the interview. Nasir says that the entire process takes much less time from start to finish calling in to an official office and waiting for an appointment.

“Our goal is to simply make things easier, for the applicant and for the HMRC staff,” says Nasir. “The online application is simple and straightforward, and we are available at all times to assist those who may need it.”

The application, which can be accessed at <https://ninoapplication.com/replacement-n-i-card/>, can also be used to apply for a replacement insurance card if needed. Nasir states that in order to use the online application, residents must have a UK residential address, be over the age of 16, and answer all questions truthfully. The application process takes five minutes.

Without a National Insurance Number, residents of the UK are ineligible to work. Nasir states that because of this, offices of the HMRC are overflowing with applicants and many are being sent away to come back another day because HMRC staff simply does not have enough time in the day to help every applicant. He states that the online application process is much easier, much faster and relieves some of the frustrations of waiting on the phone all day and trying to overcome communication barriers.

In addition to needing a National Insurance Number to work, residents must also have this official number in order to be permitted to vote. The Department for State and Pensions needs the individual number in order to pay into pension while the applicant is working. Nasir states that having the number is a must for all residents who are over the age of 16, and he adds that many are finding it more and more difficult to get through the application in an official office because of the high number of applicants.

The National Insurance Number works as a form of identification for the applicant. It is a unique number assigned to each individual, and no two numbers are alike. Nasir says that anyone who is currently living in the UK or anyone who is planning to relocate to the UK for work or for education should visit the company at <https://ninoapplication.com/open-uk-bank-account/> to learn more about the application process and about why this number is so crucial. Those who are currently residing in the United Kingdom who do not currently have their National Insurance Number are welcome to apply on the website.
