LiveEco is pleased to announce that their popular and best-selling emoji themed kids erasers and party bags are still available for purchase from their Amazon web store.

“Whether you're stocking up on school supplies or looking for cute and useful stuff to include inside your party bags, our emoji themed erasers will definitely put a smile on children's faces. With the increasing popularity of emojis, kids will definitely want to see each of the 12 of the most popular emoji expressions that we currently offer. The good thing is, each emoji expression comes in a set of 5 or 10 to make sure kids don't run out of their favorite ones,” said Christina Abels from LiveEco.

Abels explained that a set of LiveEco emoji themed erasers is composed of (12x5) 60 pcs or (12x10) 120 pcs of 1-inch diameter vibrant high quality erasers. She mentioned that their pencil erasers carry the appeal of emojis outside the digital world and can easily be used everywhere due to their portable size. They are also suitable for kids of all ages because they are made from safe, non-toxic, and recycled materials and can be used as prizes, party favors, and rewards in many situations. Furthermore, she noted that a portion of each sale is donated to legitimate charities for the protection of the natural environment.

As noted on the company's Amazon web store, their emoji erasers are made from sustainable and recycled materials, and are 100% BPA-free, hygienic, hypoallergenic, and latex-free. In addition, they say that their erasers also do an incredible job in removing all types of pencil markings without leaving any residual marks and smudges. "Our emoji erasers are not only fun to use but they also correctly do their job the first time," Abels added.

She went on to say that LiveEco is passionate in making every child's learning experience more fun and exciting. "We aim to provide cute back to school supplies that can create lasting memories for children of all ages to cherish for a lifetime. Whether it's for their birthday party or for achieving an exciting milestone in their childhood, our mission is to provide premium quality and environmentally friendly emoji themed supplies that can leave a fun and lasting impression on everyone," she said.

Abels also stated that their emoji erasers foster a more relaxed learning environment and encourage children to feel comfortable trying new things. "Most of us are afraid to fail, that's why we normally limit our learning and unlimited potential because we are afraid of making mistakes. By letting your kids use our emoji themed erasers, they will have their own squad of mini-supporters smiling back at them, encouraging them to laugh at mistakes and to try again until they succeed," she added. She said that the emoji faces on the erasers prevent kids from getting frustrated or upset when they make a mistake. Since smiles are contagious, their funny emoji erasers help kids to stay both focused and positive while doing their homework and exams.

Those looking for cute school supplies that can be used as gifts, party favors, and rewards may check out LiveEco's web store on Amazon. Aside from emoji themed erasers, the company offers emoji printed party bags as well.

Their best-selling emoji erasers are also receiving a number of positive feedbacks and reviews on Amazon. In an Amazon review, Patrick W. said, "My wife and I really like to purchase unique little items for our kids. My wife, being a former teacher, is pretty attuned to classroom needs and when she saw these emoji erasers on Amazon, she immediately thought they would be pretty fun for our kids. We received the erasers in the mail recently and our kids really loved them. Since there were 120 erasers in one pack (12 of the more popular emojis), there were more than enough even for our kids' classmates and we even put a few extras in our kids' reward box as well."

"LiveEco's emoji erasers were a big hit for my granddaughters' (ages 7 and 8) birthday parties. They are very cute and actually erase very well. The packaging was perfect and there was a wonderful assortment of them. I am saving some for my grandson's birthday party as well. I put them in goody bags with some gel pens and regular pencils, and they are an absolute hit with kids," said R. Stahl in an Amazon review.

Interested parties may purchase LiveEco's emoji themed products exclusively from their Amazon web store. More information about their products, as well as an FAQ section, can also be found on their Amazon page.
