Rushford, New York's Heirloom Culinary has recently made their Heirloom Culinary Shears available to the public. These are the the company's top-of-the-line kitchen accessory made from heavy duty stainless steel.

Heirloom Culinary's kitchen shears are created just in time for the summer season where barbecues are rampant. The product is capable of cutting through meats with ease and precision, fit to Heirloom Culinary's high standards. "We wanted to create a product that would act as chef's perfect companion," a top Heirloom Culinary salesman mentioned. "Our kitchen accessories are built to last.
