February 20, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Texas Foundation Pros has announced that they have once again expanded their service area. The Fort Worth based company is now offering their full range of foundation inspection and repair services to home and business owners in and around the McKinney, Texas area.

Erik Acer, a representative for the company says, "We are pleased to be announcing this service area expansion. A foundation, particularly a damaged foundation, is not something that should be taken lightly. Our aim is to help those in the McKinney to avoid further damage by finding and fixing those foundation issues."

The company offers a full range of foundation repair services, all of which can be seen at <https://txfoundationpros75070.business.site>. Acer says that they have years of experience in finding the root cause of foundation damage and repairing that damage before more is done. He says that damage to the foundation could actually be caused by something much more serious and that any cracks or breaks in foundations need to be assessed and repaired as quickly as possible.

?It can get wet in Texas,? says Acer. ?During the spring, we see a lot of rain. Then, during the summer, we see a lot of heat. These things together can cause cracks in a foundation and those cracks have to be repaired before they lead to some very expensive damage to the home.?

Acer says that their new service area will include all of McKinney and many of the outlying areas. He says that any home or business owner who feels that they have damage to their foundation can contact the company and they will send out a professional technician to survey the situation. He says that an initial assessment will be done to let the homeowner know what damage has been found and what needs to be done to fix the damage. Acer continues that those who would like to learn more about the company?s new service area can visit them at <https://goo.gl/posts/4nrT1>.

The company adds that there are a number of things that can cause and contribute to foundation damage. Among these are age and climate. He states that an older home may begin to shift which could cause damage to the foundation. If that damage is not repaired, Acer states that the home itself could become dangerous. Floors could begin to sag and even fall through if the damage is severe enough. He says that because of this, it is always a good idea to have a foundation inspection done prior to purchasing a home, and he urges even those who are not planning to purchase a home to have an inspection done regularly just to ensure that there are no issues.

The company states that the process begins with an initial inspection, where a qualified technician will survey the foundation to check for any cracks or other problems. Acer states that this initial inspection is important, particularly for those who do not know how to spot foundation problems.

He says that once the inspection is complete, the home or business owner will be informed of any issues that have been found and the plan for repairing those issues. The company states that they have been providing Texas residents with professional foundation repairs since 1987 and that they will continue to help home and business owners to avoid costly repairs by finding and fixing foundation problems before they get out of hand.

Acer says that home or business owners in and around McKinney who would like more information on the company and their services can visit their news page at <https://www.pressadvantage.com/organization/texas-foundation-pros-mckinney>. He says that the company?s website gives more detailed information about their services and their processes and urges those who are in need of foundation repairs or inspections to contact the company through their website or directly by phone or email to schedule an initial consultation. Contact information for the company can be found on their official website.
