St. Regis Labs, a health and nutrition company in Las Vegas, NV, has revealed that their biotin enhanced vitamin supplement for hair, Healthy Hair Essentials, was recently launched on Amazon. St. Regis Labs is offering a 50% coupon which can be obtained at <http://www.gforcedeals.com/launch-promo>, This new product has received many five star reviews after a successful launch. It is expected that people will continue to experience the fantastic benefits that the product offers.

Ron Rose from St. Regis Labs states, "We couldn't be happier with how well our product has been received! Naturally, we knew that the product was of high quality, otherwise we wouldn't have released it. However, to receive so much confirmation from customers is absolutely amazing and really encourages us to continue with our work."

Essentially, the vitamin supplement is filled with various essential and completely natural vitamins. These include biotin, vitamin A, vitamin C, folic acid and a few others. These ingredients, working in synergy with each other, help to create thicker and stronger hair that has also been shown to grow more quickly. The product is suitable for men and women alike.

Many of the reviews talk about just how effective the supplement actually is. LRey says, "First off, I love that it is all natural and made in the USA. It's been about 3 weeks and the improvement on my skin and nails is already noticeable. I love that my hair is fuller, and softer and I have noticed a lot less breakage. I would recommend Healthy Hair Essentials to others and I will continue to use this product! Great product!! Definitely give it a try!!"

Indeed, one of the greatest strengths of the product is that it is not just all natural, but that it is made in the USA as well. This guarantees the quality and safety of the product, as well as providing support for the local economy. While designed to help improve hair, it actually targets all the different follicles, which is why people have noticed improvements in their nails and skin as well. This is therefore an all round great product that is bound to become hugely popular because of its effectiveness.
