

MIT Enterprise Forum Announces Anglim Winery Participation in the 2015 Annual Wine Social

July 04, 2015

July 04, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

La Jolla, CA July 1, 2015 - The MIT Enterprise Forum is happy to announce the addition of Anglim Winery to its portfolio of 40 boutique wineries at its 2015 annual Wine Social.

Anglim Winery is known for vineyard-designate Rhône varietals and blends plus limited-release family favorites including Pinot Noir and Cabernet Sauvignon. They also use 100 percent French oak, but manage the new oak percentages to create wines with a balanced style, and enough character to be cellared but enough elegance to be enjoyed right away.

Anita Rusch, Executive Director of the San Diego MIT Enterprise Forum Chapter said that, "I like the way that Anglim Winery limits production in small lots that combine tradition and innovation."

Anglim Winery will make the journey from Paso Robles on July 29th, to the Birch Aquarium at the Scripps Institution of Oceanography in La Jolla, CA to join the 40 boutique wineries at the event. Tickets may be purchased at www.winesocial.org.

The 12 Annual MIT Enterprise Forum Wine Social creates perfect connections by putting top level decision makers, in the perfect environment for relaxed and fun conversations. Buy tickets at www.winesocial.org.
