Juli Whaley, a Media Authority Expert from Australia, is proud to announce the launch of her website, powerfullypresentnow.com, as well as her recent affiliation with top marketing website unselfishmarketer.com. Whaley is a marketing strategist who has discovered the Media Authority Program, a marketing program designed to efficiently help marketers or individuals push their brands towards getting citations from major networks and mainstream media, such as FOX, NBC, CBS, and ABC.

Whaley has helped hundreds of individuals and businesses through the Media Authority Program. Her website encourages the public to explore the program, which enables individuals and businesses to use media logos to better promote brands and products. "I have a passion for marketing strategies that work. When I discovered the Media Authority Program, I immediately wanted to be involved," Whaley wrote on her website. "The program is simple and powerful, and I love giving authentic, passionate people a marketing edge with this program."

In addition, Whaley also announced her brand new affiliation with unselfishmarketer.com, a marketing website based in Copenhagen, Denmark. The Unselfish Marketer currently offers a marketing strategy called "The Vault," as well as instructional marketing videos for beginners and experienced marketers. With this new affiliation, Whaley hopes to continue spreading her services to a wider audience who seek for better marketing strategies that will help grow businesses and brands.

Carey, a small business operator, is one of Whaley's satisfied clients. "I came to her at the right time," said Carey. "My business was struggling and needed all the push it could get, and that came in the form of media exposure and media logos. Once you have them on your side, the results can be pretty powerful," he concluded.

Powerfullypresentnow.com invites the public to become quoted experts, which in turn would allow them to use the quotes and logos to better market products and services. Whaley will aid in getting more exposure and will do all the work, guaranteeing results after a week to ten days. Her services come with a one-time small fee, with a long-term guarantee that consists of full media coverage for months and years to come.
