February 20, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

No building is too large or oddly proportioned for Up North Demo in Traverse City. Due to the overwhelming response to officially offer commercial demolition services, or demo for businesses, Up North Demo is pleased to announce that they will be dedicating a division of the company specifically for these types of large jobs.

Up North Demo welcomes projects that involve potentially unsound buildings that run the risk of collapsing. Their professional team can come in and remove and flatten entire office buildings, parking structures. Including a slew of hard-working men and women, they also bring cranes, wrecking balls, bulldozers and more to make quick work of your next commercial demolition job.

Up North Demo is committed to being the best demolition contractor in Grand Traverse County and beyond. With first class customer service and a team that will show up on time, they are sure to help your local business during it's next tear down project.

Also due to overwhelming requests, Up North Demo has invested in equipment and training for dangerous item demolition, including asbestos, and lead abatement. They can also handle dust control and construction debris since they work with many local waste management companies.

Up North Demo's experienced demolition crews receive continual training beyond the Occupational Safety and Health Administration's guidelines to work with a wide range of hazardous materials safely. Their efforts allow them to complete projects that involve rehabilitating contaminated sites, decommissioning plants, chemical cleanups and more.

Asbestos poses large scale potential dangers to the respiratory system when fibers become airborne. Companies that find asbestos in a variety of materials, including shingles, ceiling and floor tiles, wall paneling, textured walls and ceilings, and around heating cupboards surrounding boilers- need to leave immediately and call a professional.

Despite the well-documented dangers, lead continues to exist in older structures. As a result, the EPA often requires Michigan demolition contractors to be familiar with the latest lead-handling procedures. Up North Demo looks forward to helping companies complete its their demolition job. Contractors who are looking to renovate a hotel, restaurant or any other commercial property, give Up North Demo a call to discuss partnering together on a project.
