San Diego, California based Acclaim Law Group recently issued a public advisory on the importance of seeking an attorney's advice before accepting any personal injury compensation or settlement.

"When you are an injured victim of someone else's negligence, an expert personal injury (PI) lawyer is needed to make sure that you are properly compensated. In many cases, insurance companies will offer assistance right away in an attempt to reach a quick settlement, but do not be fooled into taking a settlement that does not reflect the true value of your case," said Brett Geruntino from Acclaim Law Group.

Geruntino explained that PI lawyers can help victims in identifying the true value of their case because they have a wealth of experience in analyzing the severity of injuries, assessing the extent of the victim's pain and suffering, factoring the insurance company's compensation strategy, and estimating current and future medical expenses. In addition, PI lawyers can help build a stronger case by convincing witnesses to testify, obtaining police and accident reports, and hiring expert accident reconstruction specialists. "Moreover, they also know all the steps of the insurance claims process, can advise you on what to say should you need to make a statement, gather evidence to prove your claim, and fight for a fair compensation," he said.

Meanwhile, Geruntino stated that PI lawyers fully understand the legalities of personal injury cases and they know which documents to file, how to properly complete forms, and what the applicable statutes of limitations are. He explained that they are also experienced in devising different types of strategies to ensure their clients can successfully navigate the claims process and get the best possible settlement. "By doing the claims process on your own, you could miss out on thousands of dollars of insurance compensation, since many insurance companies will not hesitate to take advantage of your lack of knowledge and bargaining power. Moreover, by retaining a PI lawyer, you can both negotiate better and demand more reasonable compensation at the same time," he added.

Those looking for a personal injury attorney San Diego, may connect with Acclaim Law Group by visiting the company's website or calling their office hotline. They are considered one of the top law firms in San Diego and the surrounding areas based on a number of positive reviews and recommendations received online.

Glory F., in a Yelp review, said, "Brett from Acclaim Law Group was recommended to me by my chiropractor after I suffered an injury and psychological trauma in a car accident. When I felt that the other party didn't want to reimburse me fairly, I decided to call Brett to hire his legal services and I was so glad that I did. He helped me in getting all of my medical bills paid, along with some money that I can use for any future medical treatments, if needed. I highly recommend Acclaim Law Group for any of your legal needs."

"The team of lawyers from Acclaim Law Group was a pleasure to work with," said Jason Diaz in a Google Review. "They communicated with me regularly, and were patient in explaining the entire process of my accident claim. They were honest, knowledgeable, and very professional. Zack and Brett worked very hard on my behalf, and helped me get a fair compensation from the insurance company."

"At Acclaim Law Group, we take the time to fully understand our clients' current and future needs. We understand that, as the injured victim, you should be focused on getting the treatment you need to get better so you can get back to your life. While you recover, we take care of all the necessary steps required to present a successful case. We will actively investigate and prepare your claim to ensure that your case receives a fair evaluation from the insurance company," Geruntino asserted.
