February 22, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

A San Diego, California firm, Melroy Property Management, has announced that they are offering personalized residential property management services for property owners in and around the San Diego area. The company provides property management, as well as investment services, all of which can be viewed in detail on their company website.

Vida Melroy, President of the company says, "Since 1969, we have been providing needed real estate investment and management services to property owners in the greater San Diego area. Our team is experienced and will tailor services to meet the specific needs of our clients."

Melroy says that San Diego is filled with investment properties and that often, owners of these properties have other pressing things to attend to, leaving them very little time to handle the actual management of those properties. She states that any property owner who is considering a management company should take the time to ensure that they know everything that the company offers, as not all management services are the same.

?Property owners have to know what they are getting with regards to property management,? says Melroy. ?Melroy Properties for instance, offers everything that property owners need to keep their investments in good shape. We always recommend that clients take into account what they need when using the services of a property management company. We take the time to consult with each client, ensuring that we can offer them the hands-on or structured management that they want.?

Melroy says that the firm?s goal is to make the renting process as easy as possible for their clients. She says that the team at Melroy has the experience needed to strike a good balance of rent level and concessions, needed to help property owners to make the most of their investments. The company provides portfolio management for property owners as well, and have the ability to take underperforming properties and make them more lucrative for their clients.

Melroy states that based on each property owner?s needs, the firm can develop a plan of action to cover all of those needs. She states that tenant retention, renovations and property maintenance are only a few of the services that can be tailored to fit the needs of their clients.

In addition to their general property management offerings, Melroy states that the company can also work with property owners during emergencies. She says that if the property owner is not able to respond to an emergency on the property, the firm can handle any issues that arise, and she adds that they are available around the clock for property emergencies for all of their clients.

Melroy continues to add that they also offer a full line of accounting services to help property owners with regards to collecting rent, giving receipts and keeping the proper records for taxes and other purposes. Melroy states that the firm has been offering quality and professional management services for property owners for decades, and that they will continue to do so for decades into the future.

The firm states that each service is personalized to meet the needs of the property owner, whether they need a full line of management and accounting services or simply someone to check on their properties from time to time or meet new rental applicants for showings. Melroy states that all of their services are done with the utmost of professionalism in mind. Those who need a full service property management firm or property owners who need any type of management system in place can visit the firm on their website at <https://www.melroyproperties.com/> to learn more. Melroy states that property owners can also use the convenient online form to contact the firm or call or email them directly with any questions that they may have.
