Burlingame Tree Service Stresses Leaving Tree Removal to Professionals

March 02, 2019

March 02, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Burlingame Tree Leaders has some strong advice for those that want to remove trees on their property themselves. They highly caution against doing it. That's because each year many across the USA are injured or killed trying to do this very thing. Not to mention, the hundreds of thousands of dollars in property damage they cause. They stress that tree removal is always best left to skilled and experienced tree service crews like those they employ.

Anna Knox, the spokesperson for Burlingame Tree Leaders, had this to say why it's best to let experienced tree service crews take down unwanted trees in someone's landscape. She says, "Professional tree removal crews like ours are always led by senior personnel that have many years in the tree service business. This vast amount of experience has thoroughly taught them the best and safest means to take down any tree. They always make sure safety is at the forefront when doing any tree felling process. Mishaps during tree removal are rare, but if one should happen and cause property damage professional tree services are always fully insured to cover these losses."

Knox went on to add that taking down trees also requires more than just knowhow. Their crews have special trucks and equipment which assist them greatly with the tree removal process. With the right professional tree removal knowledge combined with special tree removal equipment, trees will come down in the area they are intended to almost 100% of the time.

Knox also talked about the reasons why people may want to take a tree down in their yard. She stated, "Trees are our life and we never like to see one removed. There are, however, certain instances when it becomes necessary. Removing trees may be done to free up a tree cluttered landscape to promote overall tree health. It may also be done as a proactive step to remove dead, diseased or dying trees which have a tendency to come down in strong winds or big storms and cause extensive property damage."

Burlingame Tree Leaders offers both residential and commercial tree removal services. A person can get more information on the professional tree services they offer on their website and on their Google information page at <https://goo.gl/posts/FK3V41kChev>. Both of these places have contact information on the company and photos showing their tree experts in action.

Burlingame Tree Leaders is a tree services provider that offers much more than just tree removal too. Once they have removed a tree for someone, that person will be given the option to have the remaining stump ground up and removed. This is done to totally reclaim an area where a tree previously stood to make it usable for other purposes.

Another area of expertise for the company is tree trimming and tree pruning. Their experienced arborists and crew leaders know what time of the year is best to trim trees in the Burlingame area and exactly how to safely trim each variety of tree. Burlingame Tree Leaders has a skilled tree crew on standby 24/7, 365 to help out with any tree emergencies that their customers may have.

Knox also stated that the staff at Burlingame Tree Leaders is always available during office hours to discuss any particulars of a tree removal service that a customer is thinking about getting done. She also wanted to emphasize that their tree services were complete tree services too. That means they will even do a thorough cleanup of the job site before they leave the premises.

The company also offers their tree services in many different areas besides just Burlingame. Their service territory stretches as far north as San Francisco and as far south as Redwood City. If a person is unsure if their home or business is included in Burlingame Tree Leaders service territory all they have to do is call them or send them an email to find out.
