February 27, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Fairfield Roofing Pros have helped numerous residents of Fairfield protect their properties with high quality roofing. In an effort to further improve their service, they are making all roof estimates completely free.

One of the most significant problems for people who want to get their roofs repaired or re-roofed is obtaining an estimate on the work that is required on their property. Many roofers will charge a fee for providing a quotation, while others may not provide an estimate without having the prospective client make some other sort of commitment.

The problem with the roofing industry, in general, is that providing an estimate takes time. A roofer can only give a reasonable estimate after either having a full understanding of the problem or after they inspect the roof and the extent of the repairs. If the estimate is inaccurate, it can leave people feeling frustrated. That's why there is a dollar value associated with these estimates. But Fairfield Roofing Pros is doing things differently.

We have been providing roof repair in Fairfield CT for a very long time. Over the years we've repaired just about every type of roof you can think of and dealt with most, if not all types of roofing problems. We know the extent of work required to fix most of these problems so providing an estimate isn't all that difficult, commented their Marketing Manager Adam. ?Apart from providing an estimate, there is no obligation for the client to use our service which is unlike our competitors. We don't force you to commit to us. I guess that is what sets us apart.?

Anyone looking for roofers in Fairfield CT is strongly advised to get a couple of quotes before deciding on a service. The more quotes a person receives the higher their chances of getting the deal they are happy with.

By offering a free estimate, Fairfield Roofing Pros joins the ranks of elite and highly trustworthy roofers in Fairfield CT, all of whom provide estimates without any commitment. Generally, people who get these quotes use them to compare the prices with other services. So, by offering a free quote, Fairfield Roofing Pros is taking the first and very important trust-building step towards helping the residents of Fairfield make an easier decision when it comes to choosing the best roofing contractor in town.
