Jason Turner, a representative for the company says, "We are pleased to have this new office location opening and operational. Our goal is to provide our customers with needed services and to do it from a location that is easily accessible to them. We have a number of locations throughout Texas, with our Corpus Christi office being the newest."

Turner says that the company offers a number of services and resources for those who are looking in the real estate market. He says that the company's goal is to establish and foster relationships with their customers and that they feel having local offices will help them to do that.

Turner goes on to add that this new local office is now open for business and he invites those in the Corpus Christi area to visit them at their convenience.
