Stretch Mark Prevention Cream Free Shipping on Orders $35 or More Announced by Bella Joi

July 08, 2015

July 08, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Bella Joi, one of the most trusted beauty companies today, announced earlier today that those who purchase their permanent stretch mark prevention cream with orders of $35 or more will now be eligible for free shipping. This is one of the company's ways to ensure that their loyal customers will not only have more savings as they try to reduce their stretch marks during pregnancy, but a good shopping experience as well.

“As a company, we have always believed that more than anything, customer satisfaction is the most important of all. With this in mind, we are always coming up of ways to try to make our customers happy,” says Holly Richards, Bella Joi's representative. “Even though there is not a product that works at preventing stretch marks from forming during periods of rapid weight gain – that is just a natural function of the skin tearing during that time – it is possible to stop most stretch marks from becoming permanent on the skin which leads to permanent white scars that can't be removed via over the counter solutions. We decided to offer free shipping on orders over $35 to show how much we appreciate all those who have chosen us as the go-to cream for getting rid of stretch marks.”

The cream, which was formulated by a naturopathic doctor, has been steadily gaining popularity especially among women who want to fade their stretch mark scars. Each bottle has been infused with nourishing butters namely Shea, Cocoa and Mango. All of these are known to help nourish and moisturize the skin. Aside from the butters, the product has also been infused with antioxidants in the form of Aloe as well as Jojoba, Rose Hip Seed and Olive Oil. To prevent greasiness and oiliness on the skin, Capric Triglyceride was also added.

The reviews received by this stretch mark cream are testaments on how well the product is doing in the market today. In one Amazon review, the customer said, "I have pesky stretch marks on my thighs, both red and older white ones, so that is where I used this cream. Right away you will notice the cream goes on clean leaving no sticky greasy feel and really works to moisturize your skin. After a few weeks of applying to my thighs after showering I can happily report my stretch marks are fading. They are not completely gone but they are not as prevalent as they were before. I have always been self-conscious in a bathing suit because I feel like the stretch marks on my thighs are really noticeable. I am thrilled this cream has made them fade."

Again, Bella Joi now offers free shipping for orders of stretch mark cream over $35. More details about the promo is listed on the company's Amazon store page.
