Dependable Homebuyers, a We Buy Houses company, is proud to announce that they have recently had an article published on a finance and investwebsite. The article they wrote was a supportive and encouraging response to a post by a disillusioned and disappointed home buying enthusiast who had endured a string of failures in the real estate business.

The article which can be read in full at https://www.physicianonfire.com/continue-real-estate-investing/ urged the author of the original article to learn from his mistakes and come back stronger. Evan Roberts of Dependable Homebuyers was motivated to write the article, having experienced similar problems when he initially started out on his real estate journey. Evan is an optimistic individual who sees every problem or failure as an opportunity to improve. He wanted to use his experience and knowledge to assist other people who have gone through similar experiences.

One of the reasons why Evan got involved in the we buy houses industry was personal satisfaction. He is passionate about helping people, and with a we buy houses company there is the opportunity to help numerious individuals, particularly those who find themselves in a difficult situation through no fault of their own. Selling a home during foreclosure, and selling a home following a bereavement or two instances where Evan?s compassion and understanding helped his clients during challenging and stressful times. Many competators do not see this side of Dependable Homebuyers, but instead find them to be controversial due to their alternative home selling solutions as described in https://www.pressadvantage.com/story/25778-dependable-homebuyers-creates-controversy-with-recent-we-buy-houses-ad.

?There is nothing that gives me greater pleasure in this world, than helping people, and that is the very foundation upon which Dependable Homebuyers has been built,? said Evan Roberts, owner, and founder. ?When I read the article that Joseph had written, I felt compelled to reach out having found myself in a similar position when I first started in the real estate business. I don?t claim to know all the answers, but I do know that this industry can be tough and quite lonely at times, so I was determined to reach Joseph, and let him know that he should never quit, and remain focused on his vision. I hope that the advice I provided in the article will not only help Joseph but maybe inspire others who are tempted to get involved in the Real Estate Industry.?
