At the official launch of the new website, a representative of RevU World explained in detail the features of the same. The representative said, "Our aim is to provide thorough and fair information about the products available on Amazon. Any customer who peruses the site to buy products will look for a genuine and true review of the products. We endeavor to provide unbiased reviews of the products." He says that since they are not any of those sites which are affiliated with any product, the reviews of all the products are honest and fair with the sole intention of helping the consumer make a right, informed decision.

He also said that the company strives to help consumers buy with confidence and make smarter and more informed purchase decisions. The site includes reviews of a wide variety of products which are popular with customers and which are sold through Amazon or any of its affiliates.

Of the wide variety of products reviewed on this website best tower fans are also one of them. The best tower fans page details how the tower fans are a cheaper and better alternative for air conditioning devices. The page goes on to explain the features of the fans helping the customer to arrive at a decision.

The site currently has reviews of products which include personal pepper sprays, digital thermometers, pencil sharpeners, digital pianos and the like. The site says that they add systematic reviews of products that are regularly viewed by customers. The company representative says that their goal is to offer unbiased and helpful reviews of products.

?We want to help people to know what they are buying before they buy it,? says the representative for the new website. ?Our goal is to offer reviews that are honest and unbiased and that give value to customers with regards to choosing their needed products.?

The company representative also says that their site offers the required general information and comprehensive review of the products which will be of great help to those who regularly shop on Amazon or any of its affiliates. He also mentions that at present there are a large number of reviews available and that they will keep on adding more as and when new products are launched in the market.

The site representative adds that the reviews include an unbiased opinion of products along with the links to Amazon sales pages and the site?s specific rating for that product. If a product is expensive, then the review will also state that fact and offer suggestions for pocket-friendly alternatives. The products which are reviewed in each category will depend on a number of factors including the number of models or brands that are available through the Amazon market place.

The site is fresh, clean, and easy to navigate. It focuses strictly on the products being reviewed. There are no unnecessary distractions. The reviews of the products are precise and accurate.

In addition to launching the website, the company has a media room where consumers can see the latest news on them and also social pages like Facebook and LinkedIn for easy interaction with them. Consumers can also visit their website for more information.
