San Antonio-based AAA Property Buyers is proud to announce that they are now offering direct, efficient, and hassle-free "We Buy Houses" services to homeowners in San Antonio who are looking to sell their properties immediately.

"We are happy to announce that our company has already started buying houses directly from homeowners. We provide our clients in San Antonio and the neighboring areas a better alternative to traditional real estate agents so they can save money from expensive agent commissions and additional fees. Moreover, we also buy houses regardless of condition thus making the home-selling process much faster than the old-fashioned way," says Sailor Cruz of AAA Property Buyers.

The company provides risk-free services that homeowners can rely on which earns them great reputation and trust from sellers in the San Antonio area. However, the company wants to warn homeowners to always check the company's reputation before deciding to work with them. It is also stated that the company offers their services for free so homeowners who want to sell their house do not have to worry about paying anything.

According to Josh Boak of San Antonio Express-News, home purchases in many areas of the country have dipped. This event only puts homeowners in a difficult situation and may find it hard to look for buyers whom they can sell their house to. "Mortgage rates are up after years near historic lows. Price increases have been outrunning paychecks," Boak stated. Due to these happenings, homeowners who are behind mortgage payments and need to sell their house quickly now have an option to work with AAA Property Buyers who can help them cover expenses by providing them with top dollar offer for their property regardless of its condition.

"Housing prices went up so much in 2017 and the first half of 2018 that we reached a point where buyers just couldn't pay these high prices," said Daryl Fairweather, chief economist at Redfin, a real estate brokerage. With the uncertainty of being able to get a house sold in the market, AAA Property Buyers offers a more convenient way to sell a house. The company states that homeowners do not have to experience the hassle of going through the traditional process of home-selling. When working with the company, there should be no worries about finding potential buyers because the company will be the actual buyer of the house and they will buy the property fast regardless of its condition. Homeowners can also avoid those interested buyers who are likely to back out at the last minute, therefore saving them the time and inconvenience of showing the house to spectators.

"AAA Property Buyers' process was done very professionally and quickly. I could not believe that my house was sold the same week I called them. I had listed the house with a real estate agency a friend recommended to me but the house stayed on the market for 6 months without success, not even one offer. I am very happy to have worked with AAA Property Buyers and will likely recommend them to my neighbors who are also planning on selling their house," says one of its clients.
