Austin Vision Therapy Center is an eye care center that prides itself on providing the most practical vision therapy in Austin. The center focuses on excellence, and provides each of its patients with comprehensive vision care that consistently exceeds expectations. "When it comes to serving our patients, our philosophy is 'whatever it takes,' and that is the kind of service we provide at our Austin Vision Center," said the clinic.

Established in 2004 by Dr. Denise Smith, with the goal of revolutionizing people's lives and aiding those who sought alternative options to conventional treatment approaches designed only to alleviate symptoms. Since then, the Austin Vision Therapy Center has succeeded in achieving their goal, and is constantly working to improve their methodologies so that more and more people have access to their services.

"When we say comprehensive, we mean it," says the Austin Vision Therapy Center. Seeking to go beyond traditional treatment options, the therapy center offers a number of services aimed at providing the most comprehensive solutions for issues like delayed vision development, poor visual efficiency, learning disabilities, strabismus, and many others. With a skilled team of experienced professionals, Austin Vision Therapy Center has established a reputation for themselves among the people of Austin. "Our team is known for going the extra mile,? The therapy center states. They believe in, ?Making a difference, and formulating new solutions to ensure our patients receive the highest quality of care possible.?

The Center seeks to redefine optometry and Austin eye care in general. The field is constantly evolving, with new technology being added all the time. The Austin Vision Therapy Center prides itself on being at the forefront of integrating new procedures into their treatment programs and thus staying up to date with the latest in optometric technology. The constant addition of new and more advanced tools to the center?s arsenal allows them to create more personalized solutions and achieve better outcomes.

?When you choose us, we dedicate ourselves to finding and providing solutions to meet your individual needs,? affirms the Austin Vision Therapy Center. ?The service we provide is very personalized and personal. It has to be. That?s just the way we do things around here. We truly take to heart the trust our patients have instilled in us, and do everything we can to earn and keep that trust because at the end of the day it?s not about us, it?s about you.?

Poor vision affects the quality of life of every person that has to deal with it, and Austin Vision Therapy works to not only fix any issues one might have with their vision but also improve their quality of life and give each patient the opportunity to improve their situation. Vision therapy solves vision problems beyond those that traditional eye care and glasses can solve. The Center states that, ?Our programs teach your eyes to work efficiently and allow your brain to process information in a more effective manner.?

Austin Vision Therapy Center has, through its unique services, managed to create a positive reputation for itself. One pleased client states, ?I highly recommend the Center for Vision Development. Dr. Smith?s evaluation was very thorough, and she took the time to explain the results and what we need to work on. My therapist is very professional and understands my needs well. She is supportive, knowledgeable, and is dedicated to seeing me succeed. I really appreciate everyone; Tracie and Diana are attentive and are very helpful with scheduling or any paperwork that is needed. Very friendly staff.?

With qualified professionals and a strong commitment to not only treating the symptoms of visual impairment but also improving each patient?s life as a whole, the Austin Vision Therapy Center is one of the better choices to address any eye care needs that one might have. Their personalized service and customized treatment programs allow the Center to provide a comprehensive, alternative approach to eye care in Austin, Texas.
