The Key Guys Advises Car Owners To Only Trust A Certified Automotive Locksmith

March 14, 2019

MINNEAPOLIS, MN - March 14, 2019 -
Minneapolis, Minnesota based The Key Guys recently issued a public advisory that not all locksmiths are certified automotive locksmiths like The Key Guys. As noted on the company?s website, The Key Guys specializes in duplicating car keys, as well as selling aftermarket and OEM keyless car remotes, key fobs, and transponder keys for popular car brands, such as Ford, Chevy, Buick, Honda, Toyota, and more.

Bryan Nystrom from The Key Guys explained that aside from offering a full range of car key duplication services in the greater Minneapolis area, the company is also capable of making a new key from scratch utilizing the Vehicle?s Identification Number (VIN) alone, because they have exclusive access to a number of professional tools and auto security systems. Furthermore, he said that they also offer other ancillary services, including the removal of stuck keys from an ignition, and even replacement of the ignition itself.

?For many years now, we have already helped thousands of people who have lost their car keys due to various reasons. We have had people who lost their keys while partying, some while fishing, and many who just simply misplaced or dropped their car keys elsewhere,? noted Nystrom. One of the main reasons The Key Guys is so popular in the area is the fact that the company boasts a great deal of mobility and 24/7 availability. Nystrom also stated that, besides calling auto dealers or automotive service providers, Minneapolis car owners may directly reach out to The Key Guys instead, so they can save time and avoid heavy price markups.

?We are proud to say that we have been in the automotive locksmith industry for over 50 years now. In fact, we are the first certified automotive locksmith in the state, as awarded by the Association of Locksmiths of America. Our years of experience, together with our dedication to providing excellent customer service have helped us to become one of the trusted household brands in Minneapolis and the surrounding areas,? said Nystrom. In fact, his claim is supported by a long list of positive feedback from many of their previous customers.

Nate Banker, in a Google review, said, ?I had another locksmith come out and he wasn't able to figure out how to replace the key I had lost. I was feeling pretty hopeless for a while. The Key Guys figured it all out and even handed me an extra key that they had already cut, for free. I was really impressed with these guys.?

?I am giving The Key Guys a 5-star review because of their excellent customer service and quality of work,? said Irma Castillo, in a Google review. ?I called their hotline because I lost my key and I needed my car urgently on a Sunday afternoon. I got an estimate over the phone and their price was very reasonable. I was surprised that Bryan got to my address within 30 minutes after our phone call. I let him do his job and, after about half an hour, he gave me my new car key and he stayed with me to make sure I was satisfied. The key worked perfectly, and he even gave me an extra one which I had not even asked for.?

Meanwhile, John Sager, said, ?Bryan, from the Key Guys, truly helped me out of a jam. I was on a business trip down in Texas when my laptop bag was stolen with my car key in it. I called him and explained that I?d be leaving shortly for my flight but once I got back to Minneapolis, I have no way to unlock my car and get it out of the pay lot it was parked at. Bryan offered to go over to my van while I was in flight so I can meet him as soon as I arrive. I got off my flight, gave him a call, and he had it all done in 30 minutes or so. I highly recommend Bryan from The Key Guys.?

Those looking for an experienced and reliable car locksmith in Minneapolis and the surrounding areas may contact Bryan Nystrom of The Key Guys, or call the company?s hotline. Their array of services include replacement of lost or stolen keys, fixing broken keys, electronic car key programming, transponder programming, replacement of car remote batteries, and more.
