

Sinkology Builds Farmhouse Sink Product Lines

March 15, 2019

March 15, 2019 -

Sinkology is continuously expanding and enhancing the products they offer to customers. This spring, Sinkology is enhancing its fireclay collection, which features several sinks that are as versatile as they are design-friendly. The fireclay sinks are built in the traditional farmhouse style, which offers modern elegance and subtle strength to match a variety of environments and settings. The products stand out for their high level of durability and are designed to be easy to clean and simple to maintain. Each sink is available to customers to enhance the quality and beauty of each kitchen. The fireclay sinks are easy to install and feature beautiful finishes that fit well with the "farmhouse" look and any modern decor.

About Sinkology

Sinkology offers a lifetime guarantee called the Sinkology Everyday Promise on all of its products and stands behind the quality and durability of each sink that it manufactures. The company carries granite kitchen sinks, copper kitchen sinks, product cleaning and care guides, and accessories in retail stores and on its website. They have a mission to craft high-quality sinks that can be used in both bathrooms and kitchens to contribute to the beauty and functionality of residential properties.

All of the products are constructed to hold up well to bumps or drops of dishware without becoming scuffed up or scratched with frequent use. With decades of expertise, they're skilled in creating products that withstand the bumps and bangs that come with busy kitchens, and each product is designed for families to enjoy for decades.

Some of the top Sinkology bathroom products available include drop-in copper sinks, undermount sinks, vessel copper sinks, copper bathtubs, all-in-one bath kits, and bath accessories. The kitchen products that are offered include fireclay, copper, and granite sinks. Customers can also shop by different mounting types that include drop-in, undermount, and farmhouse to accommodate a variety of home styles.

Sinkology is selective about the type of retailers who sell their products to ensure that customers receive the highest quality of service. Their products can be found at The Home Depot, Lowe's, Menards, Overstock, Houzz, Wayfair, Amazon, Van Dyke's Restorers, The Home Depot Canada, and Bed Bath & Beyond. The company has a commitment to providing excellent customer service and is easy to reach via phone or by submitting inquiries on their website.

Visit the Sinkology website to learn more about the products that are available.

###

For more information about Sinkology, contact the company here: Sinkology

Sinkology

Sinkology is here to educate, support, and encourage you as you shop for the right sink for your project.

Website: <http://www.sinkology.com/>