DHL Mechanical in Calgary, Alberta has announced that they are now supporting Viessmann boilers. Viessmann provides a wide range of oil and gas powered boilers to sun-warming boilers that save consumers on their energy bills. Viessmann boilers are used in a number of homes, schools, clinics, government offices and other buildings around the world.

Mark Davie, a representative for the Calgary based company says, ?We are pleased to announce that we can now provide Viessmannn boilers for our customers. These are high quality boilers that help consumers to save money on their energy bills. Whether gas, electrical or solar powered, Viessmann boilers have become quite the staple for homes and businesses in the area. Our staff can help consumers to choose the Viessmann boiler that best fits their needs based on how much hot water they need access to and how much they want to spend, on the boiler itself and on their future energy bills.?

Davie says that DHL Mechanical Calgary offers a wide range of quality boilers from a number of different manufacturers, all of which are designed to offer optimal performance while helping consumers to save on their energy bills. The company offers a number of brand names including their new Viessmann offerings, as well as IBC, LAARS, Well-McLain, and a number of others that are powered by propane or natural gas.

The company also provides insulation for radiant heating pipes, joints, windows, ceilings, and more to help consumers to reduce their energy waste. Their selection of radiant systems are available for heating a home or heating hot water. The systems are installed to ensure that customers receive the optimal performance allowed from the system, which aids in heating the floor of the home as well as the hot water needed. Various systems can ensure that customers enjoy access to hot water for laundry, showers, and other needs around the clock, without having to wait for water to heat up again before use.

?Our selection of radiant floor heating systems help to heat the home comfortably,? says Davie. ?These systems are designed to work with any flooring type from carpeting to hardwood, and offer an energy efficient way of keeping homes warm, particularly during the frigid Canada winter temperatures.?

Davie says that in addition to offering the best name brands of boilers in the industry, the company also provides boiler repairs, which is essential for those who want to keep their systems operating properly. He states that particularly during the winter months, customers will want to ensure that their boilers are functioning as they should. Not keeping enough heat in the home during cold temperatures could result not only in family members being uncomfortably cold, but in serious consequences for the home itself as pipes could burst during frigid temperatures which could cause massive repairs to be needed. Davie states that the company has a staff of highly trained and experienced technicians who are on the ready to assist customers with all of their boiler repair needs.
