

Calgary Furnace Company Reminds Homeowners to Schedule Home Maintenance

March 19, 2019

March 19, 2019 -

Calgary is an expensive place to live. So, as a furnace company that serves Calgary and other locations around the area, the experts at Calgary Furnace Pros understand that regular service appointments might not be a top priority. However, there are three very good reasons why homeowners should invest in regular furnace maintenance?safety, efficiency, and cost.

The Alberta Safety Authority recommends servicing a furnace once a year. Although modern furnaces are safeguarded against gas leaks, they can still occur. Regular furnace service and maintenance procedures performed by a certified technician can provide peace of mind. They can also ensure the furnace is running efficiently, simultaneously conserving energy while keeping costs low.

With advanced tablet technology,Calgary Furnace Pro technicians can efficiently conduct a multi-point inspection, detailing any issues regarding wear and tear. They will provide a printout which will include recommendations for continuing furnace servicing and maintenance, as well as a fully detailed list of the costs and benefits of recommended repairs. To ensure the unit continues to operate smoothly, the technician will lubricate the motor and other moving parts.

The furnace technicians Calgary Furnace Pros can service and maintain all brand name furnaces currently on the market. These include Trane energy efficient furnaces, Carrier energy saving gas furnaces, Rheem efficient direct spark ignition furnaces, American Standard efficient furnaces, and Goodman furnaces.
