NJ Roofing Pros, based in Newark, NJ, has announced that they are offering roofing services to all cities and towns within a 30 mile radius from Newark. NJ Roofing Pros have the ability to serve all kinds of roofing needs. The Newark roofing contractor offers both residential and commercial roof repair services, including new roof installation services.

Amy Nikent, spokesperson for NJ Roofing Pros, says, "We are so excited to announce that we are now offering all kinds of roofing services to homes and commercial establishments within a 30 mile radius from Newark. We know that your roof is probably the most critical part of your home that protects it from the elements. The primary purpose of your roof is to shelter you and your loved ones from the rain, wind, snow, and harsh summer sun. Having a well-maintained roof is essential if you want to create a home that is safe and comfortable. We offer a complete array of roofing solutions in and around the Jersey City area."

The roofing services provided by NJ Roofing Pros can be subdivided into several categories. These are: emergency roof repairs, roof maintenance, new roof installation, roof cleaning, garage roof repair, siding repair, and dormer window installation.

The NJ Roofing Pros website has a blog where they publish articles to help people with regards to their roofing issues. For instance, one article provides some tips on how to choose a roofing contractor that homeowners can rely on. These include: working with a local roofing company because local contractors are more likely to be familiar with the building requirements and building codes in that particular area; ensuring that the roofing contractor is both insured and licensed; getting quotes from various competing roofing contractors; checking with the Better Business Bureau to ensure that the contractor is trustworthy; and ensuring that there is a written contract where the different things agreed upon are clearly indicated.

NJ Roofing Pros also warns about the five common roofing problems that homeowners may experience. These are: leaks; pools of water on the roof; loose, cracked and broken tiles; shrinkage after installation; and blistering.

Homeowners need to be on the lookout for roof leaks because even the smallest amount of moisture in the roof can later result into a huge problem. Most often, this is due to flashing details that have not been fastened in the correct way or the use of improper seams during roof installation. Any break in the membrane can lead to a leak. Also, the fastenings and the membrane may deteriorate as they grow older, which then results into roof leaks. These water pools or puddles on the roof may cause the roof to deteriorate faster than usual.

Meanwhile, loose, cracked and broken tiles on the roof can fall down at any time, which is a hazard for people living in the home. This may also be due to improper repair or installation. It may also have resulted from the usual wear and tear from exposure to the various elements, or it could be due to the tiles being walked on. Once homeowners find some cracked or loose tiles, it is advisable to have them replaced by a professional as soon as possible. And if those cracked tiles or loose tiles are the result of an aging roof, it is recommended that the whole roof be replaced. Or else, the homeowner may find that he has to call on a roofing contractor often as the old tiles start to crack or come loose one after the other.

Another thing that homeowners need to be on the lookout for is water pooling. An improperly installed roof can have pools of water on it because the water cannot run or drain off the roof efficiently. This may also be caused by inexperienced roofing contractors who failed to repair the roof properly.
