New Book Google My Business Makes # 1 Best Seller and New Release

March 21, 2019

March 21, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Google rolled out a new program to help business owners with their Marketing in July of 2018.

Paul Fussell the author of his new book Google My Business, has laid out how business owners can take advantage of this new program to get more customers, phone calls, and ultimately more sales.

His Book is now the number one Best Seller and New Release on Amazon.

Using GMB marketing for small business ensures that customers find a business easily, and more importantly, first.

Pro Biz Marketing and consultant is showing business owners how they can make their business relevant and easy to find with smart search engine marketing (SEM) by using Google's new program Google My Business.

This effective New strategy using GMB and search engine optimization, does not include the traditional type of marketing most are used to. No pay-per-click advertising (PPC), No FB ads, or backlinks to a business website.

“To grow their revenues consistently, get more calls, more sales, more clients, owners and CEOs must employ modern marketing tools and technology Google provides for small business, that is beyond their areas of expertise,” says Jennifer Mazzanti, CEO, eMazzanti Technologies. Partnering with a digital marketing expert like Pro Biz Marketing is the most effective use of business marketing dollars.

Google My Business for Small Business should be the core of today’s online marketing:

“It used to be, as search engines have evolved over the years, effective SEM has also evolved,” Mazzanti says. “The sheer volume of links to your website matters less than the quality of the links. In other words, the sites that link to your website should be relevant to your business and respected in the industry. But not anymore, ranking doesn’t matter with GMB program. Google is rewarding those businesses that are active and use the Mobile First GMB program, by serving them up as the preferred listing over the competition.”

Google says that almost 80% of the searches online are now done on a mobile device. So Google knows where everyone is from the GPS in every device, and then serves up the closest business to that person searching for the business, service, or product. Mazzanti says, “Branding is another important part of marketing with Google, if you are not online and have an online presence with social media, then why should Google show your website over the competition that does, is the question we ask.”

Pro Biz shows their clients how to take advantage of their Branded Social Media Network to acquire “social engagement”, the number one metric Google uses to rank anything on the web. Combined with the GMB Mobile first program, these three elements are lethal to the competition when it comes to marketing and getting the phone to ring and more customers coming through the doors of their stores.

The new search engine marketing with GMB is an essential component of a well-considered growth strategy that enables a business to put its marketing dollars to work in a targeted way to effectively convert web traffic to increased sales.

“The bottom line is if you want a website, a business, a service, or a product to be seen online, Do it thru Google My Business. It’s the New SEO for businesses,” Mazzanti says.
