3 Bees and Me announced earlier today that their travel diaper changing pad is very easy to clean and maintain. The company stated that it was a conscious effort for them because their target market consists mainly of parents who are always on the go. In addition to this, they know how important it is for mothers to have a go-to product that will allow them to easily clean and sanitize a product after every diaper change.

"We are very happy to share with everyone that our diaper changing station is very easy to clean and maintain. It is made of a very durable material that is also waterproof," says Holly James, 3 Bees and Me spokesperson. "We know that most parents, especially the moms out there, do not have the luxury of time since they have so many things to juggle personally and professionally. Because of this, we realized the need for a portable diaper changing station that is easy to clean in cases when changing baby results in messiness."

The diaper clutch is one of the most popular products of the company. It is available in a simple but classic Chevron design that is very gender-neutral. While moms will mostly be the ones carrying it, dads will not hesitate. It has several compartments that can accommodate a couple of diapers, baby wipes and small toys.

In addition to the spacious compartments, it also has a zippered front pocket where other valuables can be kept. It is very small and compact and is very ideal for people who do not like to bring bulky diaper bags.

For the pad, it has a wing design that makes it stand out from other brands. This design is to ensure that the baby will not touch any dirty surface during diaper change. The pad itself is large enough for fast-growing babies. As stated earlier, it is made of vinyl material that is easy to clean and sanitize anytime. It is also foldable and can be kept away effortlessly when not in use. It can be purchased at www.amazon.com/Bees-Me-Changing-Diaper-Clutch/dp/B00OOAM70S/ in the Amazon baby products section or on the 3 Bees and Me portable diaper pad web page.

Comfort, affordability and outstanding features are the main factors a buyer looks for when shopping for a product. 3 Bees and Me made sure to properly address each of these when they chose a material that was easy to maintain and clean for their diaper changing station product. It has become a hit for many moms.
